MORE SPACE FOR HOSPITAL PARKING

The Kelowna General Hospital has acquired a new parking lot which has accommodation for 60 cars. To do this, three lots were purchased. They are a double lot, formerly 443 Royal Ave., and a single lot at 450 Strathcona Ave. The entrance to the parking lot is opposite the hospital from a lane off Strathcona Avenue. The extra space will help relieve the current parking problem which has cars parked along the streets near the hospital. The hospital is currently building a $6,000,000 acute unit to contain 153 beds and a main service area. (Courier photo)

Freak Italian Air Crash Subject Of Double Probe

MILAN, Italy (AP) — A double investigation today sought in a black box flight recorder the secret of the freak crash that smashed a Montreal-bound Alitalia jetliner into a wooded hill but left 83 of the 95 persons aboard alive.

Nine of the 12 passengers who died when the DC-8 crashed Friday during a violent storm were Italians — four men, three women and two children, a brother and sister.

The three non-Italians killed were Abdi Marla Abdallah of Beirut, Lebanon, Levi Malinovsky of Israel and his wife, Bada.

Of the 83 survivors 67 were Italian. The other 16 were six Americans, three Canadians, three Britons, two Israelis, a Swede and a Frenchwoman. All 10 crew members survived. The Canadians were listed as Ago Tocadjan, 33, and his wife, Annemarie, 24, and Margherita Busi, 78.

What made the crash remarkable was the fact that while it was violent enough to kill 12 persons, nearly all of the survivors came out of it with only minor injuries.

CAUGHT FIRE

The engines caught fire after the crash and the fuselage was destroyed by flames. But there was no explosion and the survivors had managed to flee before the fuselage burned up.

Coup Wins In Congo

KINSHASA, The Congo (CP) — Radio Brazzaville announced today that Lieut. Jacques Fomengue, the right-hand man of President Alphonse Massamba-Debat, is the new chief of state of the Congo Republic, former French territory adjacent to The Congo.

Capt. Marien Ngouaba, the paracommando leader who was jailed by Massamba-Debat but freed Friday, was named commander-in-chief of the army.

Loula Goma was named as a third leader of the new government in the former French colony across the Congo River from here.

Four hours earlier, a communiqué was broadcast saying a segment of the army and of the country's only political party had taken control, but that Massamba-Debat would be invited to take part in the continuing dialogue.

Fomengue was named defence minister last January when Massamba-Debat fired his leftist prime minister, Ambroise Ntoundi, and reshuffled his cabinet.

It was Fomengue who was credited with firing a coup attempt in May, allegedly led by a French mercenary.

The black box that contains the electronic tape record of the flight was recovered within hours after the crash. Alitalia and the Italian government opened immediate investigations.

The flight was bound from Rome to Montreal with a stopover at Milan.

The big jet crashed into a pine-covered hillside six miles short of the runway at Milan's Malpensa Airport. Many survivors escaped through cracks in the fuselage.

The crash was the first of a commercial plane in Italy since a Trans World Airlines jet crashed taking off from Rome on Nov. 23, 1964, with a loss of 48 lives.

Action From Ottawa Looms If Postal Strike Talks Fail

OTTAWA (CP) — Mediation talks in the postal strike reopened Sunday, and it may be the last chance for a settlement short of intervention by Parliament.

A brief announcement Friday by Judge Rene Lippe, federal mediator, said chief negotiators for both sides had agreed to resume negotiations at 3 p.m. EDT Sunday.

It was not clear whether a firm or fragile basis for the next try had emerged in Judge Lippe's private contacts with representatives of the government's treasury board and the Council of Postal Workers.

The veteran mediator had been making soundings during a 48-hour period of official silence since Wednesday, when the council turned down a government wage offer and mediation broke off.

Prime Minister Trudeau has scheduled a cabinet meeting for Tuesday, a day earlier than usual, causing speculation that a government move may be around the corner.

Mr. Trudeau has said one of two conditions must be met before he will call Parliament into special session to deal with the strike, which enters its 17th day today.

He is looking for signs that negotiations are not following a responsible course, or indications that hardships to the public are becoming too severe to bear.

One barometer of public concern is the prime minister's own "mail." His office reported Friday that telegrams and telephone calls about the strike now are running 70-80 in favor of intervention by the government or Parliament.

Last week it was 90-10 the other way.

The prime minister scrapped plans for a private holiday this week and next, and left Friday for Montreal, planning to be back in the capital Sunday night after spending today in Quebec City.

It was up to Judge Lippe to decide when the time was right for more negotiation.

MARCH URGED
MONTREAL (CP) — Louis Laberge, president of the Quebec Federation of Labor, told more than 1,500 striking postal workers Friday night they should march on Ottawa if Parliament adopts strike-ending legislation.

Every worker should report in sick if an "unjust law" is passed, Mr. Laberge told a meeting of Montreal-area postal workers in an east-end arena.

"If Parliament is called, I hope there won't be a single postal employee who won't go to Ottawa with us."

Later in his speech, however, Mr. Laberge cautioned that union leaders should wait and see what kind of legislation was being proposed before issuing marching orders.

Reports Say 100,000 Slain In China

HONG KONG (AP)—Travellers from Canton said today more than 10,000 Red Guards in Canton were arrested by the Chinese Army and a number of them shot and killed when they resisted arrest. Other unconfirmed reports said at least 100,000 persons were killed in the factional fighting in Kwangsi and Kwangtung provinces in the last few months.

Bennett Denies 'Joke'

NORTH VANCOUVER, B.C. (CP)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett dismissed Friday as "stupid Liberal propaganda" a charge that his call for a federal - provincial conference on pollution was a tragic joke.

"This is just stupid Liberal propaganda for the flower government," said the premier as he arrived at the Pacific Great Eastern Railway station here from a tour of the northern British Columbia interior.

"What do you expect from such a government? You can't mail a letter, but you can telegraph flowers," he said, apparently referring to the postal strike and the flowers worn by Prime Minister Trudeau in the June election campaign.

Esquimalt - Saanich Liberal MP David Anderson Thursday called Bennett's call for a pollution conference a tragic joke mocking the people of B.C.

Mr. Bennett in Prince George Wednesday had called for the conference and had said B.C. would not reveal its plans to help alleviate the costs of pollution control for municipalities because it did not want to give the federal government an excuse for reducing its efforts.

The premier returned Friday by special PGE train after officiating at the opening of the provincially - operated railway extension to Fort St. James.

Did Too Well On Welfare

NANAIMO (CP) — Through a "complete misunderstanding" Paul Anthony Mokele was doing too well on welfare.

He pleaded guilty in magistrate's court Friday to four charges of defrauding the social welfare department.

The 33-year-old Cuban native, in Canada for six years, was sentenced to three months in jail, to be served concurrently on each charge.

Defence counsel said, through a "complete misunderstanding," Mokele thought he could receive additional welfare payments as he moved around the island.

He received $90 a month from the Victoria welfare office for four months and a total $396 from offices in Nanaimo, Port Alberni and Campbell River, court was told.

Mokele was ordered to pay $200 restitution.

Cats Credited As Lifesavers

TORONTO (CP) — The catering of 24 cats is credited with saving the lives of 19 persons in a rooming house fire here early today.

Vicki Bickers, their owner, said she opened the door of her third-floor room when her cats began screaming, "and the heat drove me back."

She dropped some of her pets out the window—some of them kittens born only an hour before the fire—and escaped herself down the fire ladder outside her window.

Terrance Dunphy, 42, trapped in his third-floor room, was lowered by stretcher and taken to hospital with first, second and third degree burns.

The other residents, including seven children, escaped. Six of Mrs. Bickers' cats died.

Better Medicine Aim In Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — The government and the Communist party published decrees today to improve the quality of medical services in the Soviet Union.

In reporting the decision to raise medical standards, the Communist party newspaper Pravda said the Soviet Union's free medical service system had done much to provide care for the population, reduce disease and develop medical science, but much remained to be done.

The decrees provide for the opening of 1 major clinics with 1,000 or more beds between 1971 and 1975. Seventy other specialized hospitals and medical centres are to be built in the same period.

Special emphasis was placed on improving medical care for rural communities.

Republican Delegates Lock Horns

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — The battle for the Republican presidential nomination is about to shift from arguments over polls and estimates to delegate strength to the personal impact of the two top contenders.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York and former vice-president Richard Nixon are ready to present their individual credentials to the politicians and the impact they make could have more to do with the result than anything controversial that has gone before.

There is almost no serious thought among outsiders in this sweltering convention city that Gov. Ronald Reagan of California could wind up with the nomination.

The delegates will nominate their presidential candidate Wednesday night.

Nixon supporters were putting on the pressure to get southern delegates to hold the line against any early ballot break toward Reagan.

In addition, the Nixon people were trying to encourage a break away from favorite sons who were displaying a fresh determination to take a good look at the situation before committing themselves.

Among these Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio remained an inscrutable holdout. Nobody could forecast where Gov. George Romney might try to lead his Michigan delegation or where Gov. Spiro T. Agnew would take Maryland.

These three delegations held centre-stage as many of the state units scheduled pre-convention caucuses. Their votes alone would not add up to victory or defeat for Nixon or Rockefeller, but the direction in which they turned might trigger everything.

Another Bomb Wakes New York

NEW YORK (Reuters) — A bomb exploded early today at the Bank of Tokyo on Park Avenue. Police said no one was injured by the blast.

There have been more than a dozen bomb explosions in New York this year at foreign consulates or offices of non-Communist countries which trade with Cuba. Among them was the Canadian tourist office on Fifth Avenue.

Police have said they believe most of the blasts were the work of anti-Castro Cuban terrorists.

Signing Of Treaty All Set - Then New Talks Arranged

BRATISLAVA (CP) — Czechoslovak leaders and their Soviet orthodox Communist critics unexpectedly resumed talks in this Slovak City this afternoon on a joint declaration that is expected to patch up the rift between them.

The declaration, which unofficial sources said is to permit Czechoslovakia's liberalization to continue, was scheduled to be signed this afternoon by the chiefs of six Communist parties.

Resumption of the talks suggested a last-minute hitch had developed.

Leaders of the Soviet, East German, Polish, Bulgarian, Hungarian and Czechoslovak parties are taking part in the talks which officially began this morning.

The start of the talks coincided with an announcement that Soviet troops have completed their withdrawal from this country. The troops lingered here for more than a month after the end of Warsaw pact manoeuvres.

The initial meeting today lasted a little more than two hours. PLACED WREATHS

Following the meeting, the leaders of the six parties placed wreaths on a monument to 7,000 Soviet soldiers who died in the liberation of Slovakia during the Second World War.

The monument and cemetery are on a hill overlooking the Danube. It is the highest point in Bratislava.

There were no security precautions during the ceremony and the party leaders, including Leonid Brezhnev of Russia, mingled freely with the crowds.

There were shouts of "Long live friendship with the Soviet Union" and "Long live Dubcek." The latter was a reference to Alexander Dubcek, the reformist chief of the Czechoslovak party.

The Associated Press said the final language of the agreement was expected to include a Soviet promise not to interfere with Czechoslovakia's liberalization drive in exchange for Czechoslovakia's pledge to remain firmly in the Communist camp.

The Communist leaders met today in the local trades union recreation house in the King's Valley, overlooking the Danube River and Austria and Hungary on the farther bank.

Before the meeting Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin, accompanied by the Kremlin's chief ideologist, Mikhail Suslov, and other officials, together with a retinue of bodyguards, took a stroll along the Danube.

Reporters asked Kosygin if he was satisfied with the way things were going and he nodded and replied, "satisfied."

Fresh Tremors Hit Phillipines

MANILA (CP) — Fresh tremors shook Manila today only 39 hours after Friday's pre-dawn quake that collapsed an apartment building and by police counted killed more than 100 persons.

The toll was expected to rise because many more were feared buried alive and beyond early rescue help.

There were no immediate reports of damage or injury from the new tremors that registered four and five on a scale of nine. The Manila weather bureau measured the Friday quake at six.

Meanwhile, rescue workers continued their sifting hand-to-hand through the rubble to find at least 250 persons still believed trapped in the wreckage of the five-storey apartment house.

They fear anyone still alive under the debris of the apartment house will be dead if they are not dug out by tonight.

Wearing gauze masks to shield them from the odor of rotting corpses, laborers today directed their efforts towards the desperate cries and tappings of persons still trapped under the building.

Police Chief Enrique Jmoraes said 108 people died in the building.

"Perhaps there are still some 10 to 15 persons still alive amid the rubble," he told reporters.

Some downtown sections were scenes of levelled concrete walls, twisted steel, shattered windows and crumpled sidewalks and streets. The quake also started fires.

In other parts of the Philippines, buildings were damaged, power lines were snapped and radio stations and telephones went dead.

The earthquake shook the entire length of the main island of Luzon.

Sirhan's Lawyer May Choose Unusual Form Of Defence

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan's lawyer may rely on a little used and controversial defence tactic to try to reduce the penalty his client would face if convicted of killing Senator Robert F. Kennedy.

The 24-year-old Sirhan pleaded innocent to the murder charge Friday but lawyer Russell Parsons reserved the right to make new motions within 35 days.

Under California law, one option available is the defence of "diminished capacity," or partial insanity.

If employing this tactic, the defence would try to show through psychiatric evidence that because of a mental disease or defect the defendant could not form the specific intent, malice and premeditation required for conviction of first-degree murder.

Until 1949, California courts had ruled against the defence in the use of such a device, holding that insanity is either a full defence requiring a plea of innocent by reason of insanity, or no defence at all. Decisions since 1949 have made the defence feasible. It would not result in acquittal if successful, but would reduce the charge to second-degree murder or manslaughter.

TRIAL, NOV. 1

At Sirhan's 22½-minute court appearance Friday, the Jordanian immigrant's trial was set for Nov. 1.

After Sirhan entered his plea Parsons said he does not know if his client is sane. He said he still is studying reports by two defence psychiatrists and is waiting for his client to have his brain x-rayed.

Anti-Pollution Campaign On Leadership Planned By Provinces

Provincial governments in Canada plan to work out "as quickly as possible" a set of country-wide guidelines for the control of air, water and soil pollution. The ninth annual premiers conference in Vancouver, B.C., reached unanimous agreement Friday on the need for national anti-pollution standards after the matter was placed on the conference agenda by Alberta Premier E. C. Manning. Mr. Manning announced that British Columbia has agreed to undertake the job of co-ordinating the work of the various provinces and to draw up a draft of the guidelines.

Marcelo Perez Jimenez, former dictator of Venezuela, arrived Friday in Madrid to take up exile in Spain after being freed by a court in Caracas. The Venezuelan court convicted the 54-year-old former general Thursday of taking about $10,000,000 in public funds and kickbacks and sentenced him to a prison term of four years, 45 days. P.J. as he is known at home, was set free at once because he had been in jail longer than that waiting for trial and under Venezuelan law this was deducted from his sentence.

The British Columbia Medical Association said Friday in Vancouver there is a critical shortage of treatment services in the province for mentally ill and emotionally disturbed children. A prepared statement said the lack of services is "even more critical than for mentally ill adults" but services could be developed through concerted effort by all parties interested in child welfare. Dr. Donald Watterson, chairman of the BCMA psychiatry section, announced the association will give the B.C. government, before the next legislature session, a full report on services needed for children.

Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey promised Friday to fire U.S. Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey, a target of anti-Vietnam war and anti-military draft protests, if elected president in November. The vice-president, bringing his quest for the Democratic party's presidential nomination into the Detroit area, issued a statement saying Hershey "has indicated that George Wallace would be the best candidate for the presidency for his office to work with."

John Cardinal Heenan urged Britain's Roman Catholics today to accept the Pope's ban on artificial contraception but told them not to despair if they fail to tempt. Cardinal Heenan, Archbishop of Westminster and head of the hierarchy in England and Wales, made this appeal in a pastoral letter to be read in the 240 churches of his archdiocese. He said the Pope's ruling will bring hardship to many. But he defended both its timing and content against the outburst of criticism that has shaken the Church throughout the world.

Claude Boileau, 31, and his aunt, Amanda Boileau, 63, were found slashed to death Friday in their apartment in the lower west end of Montreal. "The most grisly killing I've ever had to investigate," said Det. Lieut. Ellis Leblanc of the city's criminal investigation bureau. A neighbor living in the apartment below the victims said that early in the day she heard "a thump, like a dresser or a table being turned over." Police said the victims were killed with a knife or a broken bottle.

Secretary-General U. Thant for the United Nations reported Friday his special representative has been unable to look into humanitarian problems growing out of the 1967 war in the Middle East because of conditions laid down by Israel. The main obstacle, Thant indicated, was Israel's demand that the UN envoy, Nils Gunning, inquire into the situation of the Jewish communities in Arab countries in the area of conflict.

Conservative leader Robert Stanfield is scheduled to arrive in Vancouver Sunday for a day of talks with the party's British Columbia executive. Mr. Stanfield is to meet officials Monday and leave for Winnipeg Tuesday afternoon.

Joint meetings are being conducted in a "businesslike mood" between officials of striking grain handlers and terminal elevators, but final stages of the talks are not expected before the end of next week. D. S. Tysoe, federal mediator in the dispute who was instrumental in bringing the two parties back to the negotiating table following a collapse in talks July 19, made the evaluation late Friday in Fort William, Ont.

IWA To Battle On Leadership

VANCOUVER (CP)—A battle for control of the International Woodworkers of America in British Columbia is shaping up in the wake of a new two-year contract settlement that met with considerably less than unanimous approval by the union membership.

Coastal union members earlier this week voted 11,419 in favor of the new contract, 5,340 against. The contract gives the men a 36-cent hourly wage increase on a $2.75 base rate and other benefits.

Weldon Jubenville, president of the Duncan local, and Syd Thompson, head of the 7,000-member Vancouver local, both urged their men to vote against the contract. And both men say they will try to unseat IWA regional president Jack Moore, who headed the union negotiating team and recommended acceptance of the new agreement.

FALL SHOWDOWN
The bid will be made at the IWA's fall convention. Mr. Jubenville said Thursday that the IWA members recognized they could not win further contract improvements by rejecting the proposed contract. "This became apparent after Mr. Moore pleaded in public for John Billings (head of Forest Industrial Relations, which represents coast employers) to return to the bargaining table," Jubenville said.

Mr. Jubenville said he has nothing personally against Moore. "The quarrel I have with him is that he doesn't have guts and he doesn't show leadership," he said.

Plane Crashes Into Vegas Sign

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A small plane struck a sign above a 28-story building Friday night, then crashed through the roof of the nearby Las Vegas convention centre, killing the pilot.

Authorities found a wing lodged in a revolving "L" sign atop the Landmark Tower, which houses businesses and a casino that hasn't yet opened for business. Wreckage was strewn about the convention centre 100 yards away. Nobody was hurt in either building.

Rocky Moves In To Slow Nixon

MIAMI BEACH (CP-AP) — The top convention boss for the Rockefeller forces as a set of today that Nelson Rockefeller has reached an informal agreement with key delegations that will prevent the quick presidential nomination of Richard Nixon at the Republican convention next Wednesday.

Leonard Hall, the New York governor's convention manager, said he had been assured that Govs. George Romney of Michigan and James Rhodes of Ohio would hold their powerful delegations in line for first two ballots. Romney and Rhodes are favorite sons with their delegations pledged to support them in the voting.

Countering this, Herbert Klein, Nixon's press director, said that Nixon can win on an early ballot without the help of the favorite sons, if they decide to hold out. He stuck to his claim that the former vice-president has about 700 votes elsewhere, more than the 667 needed for nomination.

Even with the help of a favorable national poll, Rockefeller's forces are battling up hill to hold the line against a Nixon surge on the first ballot. Nixon himself has yet to decide whether to go all out on that initial test or wait for a second round.

Hall conceded that he has no firm commitments from either Romney or Rhodes, whose delegations will poll a total of 106 critical votes among the 1,333 to be cast when the nominating convention gets around to its main business next Wednesday night.

Split Hits World Churchmen Over 'Ban-The-Pill Issue'

VATICAN CITY (AP)—In a recent general audience, Pope Paul spoke out against "religion that is oriented toward man as the main object of his own interest." The pontiff said true religion must be God-centred first and man-directed afterwards.

It would appear that the Pope banned the pill and all other mechanical birth control devices in his encyclical "Of Human Life" because he believes these devices serve only man's will, not God's.

Many theologians, Roman Catholics and others, disagree, saying that God has given no clear teaching about controlling births. Some critics of the encyclical argue that Pope Paul felt boxed in by the rulings of his predecessors and saw no way to change church policy without repudiating past teaching. Others say that, in fact, there is a moral obligation to limit population and reduce want and suffering.

The encyclical, however, is studied with references to God as the author of life and to married persons as "the true and responsible collaborators of God the Creator." To take advantage of sex while blocking its creative powers, the Pope believes, is a sin against God's will.

The grim picture of people weighed down with poverty in India and other lands has provoked Pope Paul's sympathy but he regards the spiritual evil of sin as more intolerable.

Birth control devices, in the Pope's view, are not another praiseworthy human invention to improve upon nature, such as hearing aids and contact lenses. To him they are a means of frustrating the creative faculty implanted by God.

"Just as man does not have unlimited dominion over his body in general," the Pope says in his encyclical, "so also, with particular reasons, he has no such dominion over his generative faculties as such, because of their intrinsic ordination to wondrous raising up life, of which God is the principle."

He also declared that husbands and wives "must conform their activity to the creative intention of God, expressed in the very nature of marriage and of its acts, and manifested by the constant teaching of the Church."

In his audiences in July, the Pope clung to the theme that Christianity cannot become pure humanism, that faith in God and observance of God's will, however difficult, must remain the keystone.

"The Christian life," he said in one audience, "is not soft and easy, nor comfortable... or morally accommodating."

Pope 'Steals Bishops Thunder'

LONDON (CP) — "The Pope has rather stolen our thunder this week."

That was the remark by a Lambeth conference spokesman summed up the situation as 460 Anglican bishops from around the world ended their first week's work in the month-long assembly.

As the bishops buckled down to work in the 3 subcommittees, little emerged from the closed doors except reactions to Pope Paul's controversial encyclical banning all artificial contraception.

The Archbishop of Canterbury reiterated the Anglican position adopted at the 1958 Lambeth conference, which leaves contraception to the individual conscience.

The Primates of Canada, Most Rev. Howard Clark, said the Anglican Church believes family planning is "Part of the loving responsibility of husband and wife in marriage." The means used must be entrusted to their consciences as "free, responsible people."

Archbishop Clark added, explaining he would not comment directly on the Pope's encyclical until he could study it further.

GREAT DISAPPOINTMENT
Bishop Ralph Dean, Bishop of Cariboo, who is conference secretary and executive officer of the Anglican communion, said in a statement he thought the encyclical would cause "great disappointment" to many Roman Catholics, both lay people and clergy. He thought many Catholic laity would simply go on as they do now.

Bishop Dean saw no hindrance to the talks between Anglicans and Roman Catholics but the panel ban "is bound to highlight the disagreements between us."

First issue to emerge out of the secret conclaves of bishops was that of finding a centralized structure for the widely-scattered Anglican communion. Under scrutiny now by all the bishops are two plans, both by Canadians, for a central council that would direct missionary and other strategy.

The average Canadian invests a great deal of money in cars during his life-time so it only stands to reason that when it is not running as well as it should a little time spent in seeking out an expert in car repairs would be well worth the effort. I'd like to save you a little time and effort by recommending... highly recommending Herbert Moser, owner and operator of Hep's Auto Service. Mr. Moser, born in Switzerland, began his career with the world famous Mercedes Benz in Berne, Switzerland in 1953. He later travelled to Africa where he was in charge of a large fleet of diesel and gas trucks... it is with these years of experience behind him that he arrived in Canada in June of 1967. Being enterprising and eager to put his knowledge to work he has now taken over the Chevrolet dealership specializing in repairs to all European and American cars and trucks. There is no need to worry about finding time to take your car in as they are conveniently open from 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., seven days a week... a full-time mechanic is on duty at all times and pick-up and delivery service is yours for the asking. Take advantage of Mr. Moser's years of experience and knowledge... he wants to be of service to you.

A HIGHLIGHT OF KELOWNA VISIT

Mrs. Elizabeth Dunsby's vacation in Kelowna was enjoyable, but uneventful, until she found herself chosen visitor of the week by Kelowna Chamber of Commerce. Here she is presented with a basket of fresh Okanagan fruit by

Ald. Thomas Angus, acting for the mayor. Mrs. Dunsby returns to her home in Vancouver today with both the fruit (donated by the Retail Merchants' Association) and memories of "a very lovely holiday" in the Valley. "I've really enjoyed the hospitality here," she said, explaining that she makes a point of seeing a different part of the world each year. An ardent walker, Mrs. Dunsby spent most of her two weeks here seeing the countryside on foot as well as "swimming, golfing and eating." Will she be back to Kelowna? "Well, that's a tough question; I like to go somewhere different each summer, but this is lovely country."

District Baked By Summertime Sun

If July came more than once a year Okanagan Lake might dry up and the Ogopogo could come creeping along Bernard Avenue.

That is of course if every July was a duplicate of last month. The mercury reached 90 or more on 11 occasions and topped 80 on 10 others. For eight successive days, July 2 to 9, city residents basked in 90-plus temperature readings.

The maximum recorded was 96 July 5 and the minimum was 43 July 13. The highest temperature a year ago was 94 on July 28 and the minimum 48 on July 22.

The average high this year was 84.5 and the average low 54.2, compared with 84.9 and 54.6 respectively for the same period last year.

THE VALLEY SCENE

Two hungry-looking transients were observed Thursday taking part in a minor drama that might be entitled "Forbidden Fruit". The two were spotted downtown having a violent argument in French, apparently over a small bush. "This is cherries, no?" the hungry-looking-of-the two asked a passerby, pointing at the tiny red berries. "I hate one of dem but dey don't taste too good," he was informed. "No, they're wax berries; did they make you sick?" The transient's face fell. "Mon Dieu, not yet!"

Have you ever heard of a mailwoman. Either there is or it was a mailman's wife who was picketing around the post office early today.

Four Kelowna boys are among 60 Junior Forest Wardens from the Southern Interior attending a seven-day training camp at Wilson's Landing, 10 miles north of Kelowna on the west side of Okanagan Lake starting today. They are Karl Nahm, Rodney Hicks, Curtis Chamberlain, and Douglas Kerr.

Tuesday's acquiesce has been rescheduled for Monday because of the Lady of the Lake candidates' rehearsal on the eve of the Regatta. On tap this week is a guest band from the Prairies which parks and recreation superintendent Gordon Smith says has something for everyone. Other highlights will be a canoe tipping competition, performances by the Aqua Ski Club and the Lyrics a local singing group.

The Okanagan Art and Craft Guild, non-profit association, set up to sell the work of 60 producers throughout the province has about 100 items in its downtown store. They range from woodwork, to ceramics, to pottery and paintings and are consigned from people whose skills the organization tries to encourage and enhance. The guild, which writes to creative people and tries to obtain their work for sale, opened the store located in the Williams Block in March.

The public is urged to take every precaution in or near the district woods this weekend with matches, cigarettes and campfires as the fire hazard in the Kelowna Ranger District registers high.

The west side chamber of commerce building is feeling the effects of Kelowna's patented tourist resource, particularly in the past three weeks. With Regatta week still to come, the town should be swarming with tourists.

Jack Brow, recreation chief would like to forget Wednesday's track and field meet which didn't break any attendance records. About a dozen athletes competed.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man. (CP) — Dave Curran swooped his CL-41 Tutor in for a landing, wiped the sweat from his brow and a few minutes later was lighting a long cigar in his small shared office.

"As far as a flying career this is my zenith. It's like a piano player going to Carnegie Hall."

That's the closest Capt. Curran comes to boasting about being the Red Knight, the Canadian Forces solo aerobatic pilot.

The Red Knight's Canadian exhibitions have been cut to 10 this year and Kelowna International Regatta Association officials are pleased to be on the circuit, much smaller than past years.

Regatta Parade List Impressive

With the Regatta less than a week away, last minute parade planning activities are increasing. Junior Chamber of Commerce parade marshal Joachim Holtz reports.

"The current mail strike has compounded entry problems, but we have an impressive list of parade units and the parade is well in hand," he said Friday.

"The enthusiasm of local business firms is exceptionally well noted this year, with a large increase in participation."

Many larger centres in the province, and some from the northwestern United States, will join in the parade with floats representing their area. Two of the most notable floats will be from the Washington State Apple Blossom Festival at Wenatchee and the Pacific National Exhibition. Calgary will send a Stampede float, newly designed.

"Visiting royalty will be riding in convertibles and boats, which will be decorated in a nautical theme," Mr. Holtz explained. "The parade will employ the same route as in previous years."

Starting at 6 p.m. at the corner of Bernard Avenue and Ethel Street, the parade moves down Bernard Avenue to finish at the City Park Oval. It is expected to take about 1½ hours to pass a given point.

Local citizens interested in joining the parade have until Tuesday to pick up entry forms and return them to Regatta headquarters on Mill Street.

Championship Water Skiers To Show Their Stuff On Lake

Those devil-may-care water bugs who habitually romp across the peaceful waters of Okanagan Lake are set for action again.

The occasion — the Pacific Northwest Water Skiing Championships, Thursday and Friday across the lake adjacent to the old Rotary Beach.

The competition, hosted by the Kelowna Aqua Ski Club in conjunction with the Regatta, will feature slalom, jumping, trick skiing, and barefoot skiing. In addition there will be parachute and kite skiing.

Skiers will compete in eight categories and the event is open to males and females.

Monday the Aqua Ski Club will put on a show from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the tournament site. Admission will be charged.

During the Regatta barefoot skiers, parachutists, kite skiers and clowns will show their talents in two performances per day, in afternoon and evening in front of the grandstand.

Three Motorists To Hospital After West Side Road Mishap

A three-car accident on Highway 97 sent three Westbank residents to hospital Friday and caused more than $2,500 damage.

Alois Kapprell, a passenger in one of the cars, is listed in fair condition in the Kelowna General Hospital. His wife, Mrs. Kapprell, was released after examination. Driver of the car was Norman Fenton, also in hospital in satisfactory condition.

The Fenton car was making a turn off the highway onto the Last Mountain Road Friday at 3:45 p.m. when two other cars travelling in the same direction smashed into the rear of Mr. Fenton's vehicle. Drivers of the other two cars, neither of them injured, were John Oliver, Winnipeg and Murray Ross, Kamloops.

RCMP are holding two Kelowna youths in connection with investigation of several ransacked cars in the city. The names are being withheld. Two other incidents of rifled cars occurred during the week, but police say they are separate incidents.

Poor Show For Clinic

A poor public response to the blood donor clinic held in Rutland Friday left the Canadian Red Cross mobile blood collecting unit with less than half the quantity of blood expected.

The four-hour clinic held at the Rutland Centennial Community Hall netted 69 pints of blood; the original target was 150.

"We certainly didn't have a very good turnout," said Mrs. Clarence Mallach, secretary of the Public Health Unit in Rutland. She attributed the small number of donors to hot weather, lack of publicity because of the mail strike and to "apathy."

Results to decide which group or organization will win a special shield for the highest percentage of members giving blood have not been tabulated. The shield will be presented Monday, Mrs. Mallach said.

Free Films At City Park

The 1968 summer film program continues Sunday at the City Park oval, again presented by the Kelowna Film Council and the National Film Board.

This week's program will provide a varied selection of films by the NFB and a Kelowna photographer.

A new animation technique adds life and fun to letters in the first film, entitled Alphabet. This will be followed by a film of 1967 Regatta parades and the Golden Centennial races performing over Kelowna's waterfront. Also shown will be scenes from limited hydroplane races.

Doug Rogers, Canadian judo champion and Olympic silver medalist, is presented in an unusual film biography entitled Judo.

This program will conclude with a cross-Canada aerial tour in the film Helicopter Canada. The free film program begins at dusk.

Action Ends Before Court

Fighting in the street earned two Valley youths fines of $35 or seven days in jail in magistrate's court today.

Robert Milligan, Kelowna and Dennis Pontan, Rutland, were arrested early Saturday after police found them scuffling outside the Aquatic in the City Park.

Released on $100 bail for trial Monday was Andrew Robertson, a Rutland resident charged with possessing an offensive weapon.

Bail was set at $140 to release Bernard Smith, charged early Saturday with impaired driving. He will make his plea Monday.

A juvenile was remanded Monday on a charge of attempted theft.

Whole Okanagan-Mainline Interested In Canal Plans

Everard Clarke of Vernon demonstrated Friday night why he was named head of the Okanagan Water Resources Committee.

He brought together 35 people from Oliver to Kamloops, all vitally concerned with the proposed Shuswap-Okanagan canal project and with water quality control in general, to a meeting in Kelowna.

Attending were MPs Len Marchand, Kamloops-Cariboo; Douglas Stewart, Okanagan-Kootenay; Bruce Howard, Okanagan-Boundary and Randolph Harding, Kootenay West, also MLAs Pat Jordan, North Okanagan and Willis Jecoat, Shuswap.

Others attending included Victor Raudsepp, chief engineer, water resources branch, Victoria, city and chamber representatives from Kelowna, Vernon and Penticton, also the three regional districts in the Okanagan. The Okanagan-Similkameen Associated Chambers of Commerce was represented, as was Lumby.

Two important resolutions were passed without opposition. The Vernon Chamber of Commerce moved a three part resolution, that asked the new (just off the press) report on the proposed canal and its effect on the Shuswap-Thompson Valley, be made available immediately to Shuswap residents; that public hearings be held to clarify the situation and that, all problems being resolved, the provincial government start work at once on implementing the diversion project.

The second resolution, moved by Gordon Hirtle of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce, urged federal and provincial governments to classify the Okanagan watershed as an experimental or demonstration basin for financing and co-ordinating hydraulic, hydrological, ecological and limnological research studies and implementing beneficial measures at the earliest possible date.

Some opinions expressed at the meeting were:

George Morrison, Lumby, would like to see a study of diverting flood water from Sugar Lake to Lumby to Kalamalka to the Okanagan Lake. Lumby opposes a dam on Mabel Lake, "the only pure fresh water lake left."

Mr. Raudsepp said inflow in a dry year in Sugar Lake is not sufficient to meet the water demand in the Okanagan and diverting it to Lumby would be more costly.

He said diversion from the Shuswap would not harm the northern area. Mr. Raudsepp said diversion of the Columbia, as suggested by J. A. Foord of Lumby, would cost two to three times more.

Mayor Douglas Stuart, Penticton, said Lumby should institute a separate request for irrigation water through ARDA.

Mrs. Jordan said she was present to listen and report to the minister on resolutions passed. She said the minister (Ray Williston, lands, forests and water resources) did not receive a copy of federal minister Jean-Luc Pepin's letter to Mr. Clarke, offering help on a federal-provincial basis to clarify the situation and that, all problems being resolved, the provincial government start work at once on implementing the diversion project.

Labor, Management Need Golden Rule As Guideline

Our present-day economy is constantly being disrupted by labor disputes and strikes, and the cost of living index continues its upward spiral. Present bargaining methods may gain some objectives, but usually both employer and employee are the losers, to say nothing of the loss and inconvenience to the public at large.

Those who look ahead prophecy that present trends will lead to certain economic catastrophe. The application of Biblical and Christian principals in labor-management affairs would eliminate these problems. Using as a guideline the Golden Rule—"As ye would that men should do unto you, do ye also to them likewise"—would do much to improve relationships at the bargaining table.

The underlying motivation would be one of love and concern for each other. Employers would pay a fair wage and provide good working conditions. Employees would be reasonable in their demands and diligent in their work.

Both would be interested in the effect of their decisions in the overall economy and the welfare of others. Profits would be reasonable and fairly distributed.

Too idealistic you say? Yes, as long as man follows his own natural tendencies, no matter how humanitarian he may be.

But this is the way that Jesus lived, and the way he enables his followers to live. Christianity is not just a way of life, but is a new life itself.

The Christian is a changed person with new affections, new motives, and new principles guiding his life. His life is no longer self centred, but Christ centred, and this involves him in a very real concern for others.

If you desire a change for the better in current economic affairs, and if you want to make an effective contribution to the improvement, you must first let Jesus Christ transform your life and fill your heart with his love.

—J. H. James,
Pastor of the Kelowna Free Methodist Church.

Nuclear Ban Complicated

(Victoria Times)

The humanitarian logic of nuclear disarmament is apparent to most people. Less obvious is the complex system of negotiation that is required to introduce a topic for international discussion, balance the concessions and the demands, reconcile the bargaining, agree on the wording, win acceptance by the home governments, and finally announce a new treaty to the world.

And even these steps include only the highlights of international discussion. There are the formal posturing, the preliminary propaganda statements, the official stands, the informal talks, the backroom trading and the high-tension log-rolling. And particularly where a nation's future existence as an independent state may hang in the balance, it is understandable that the negotiators should proceed with the utmost caution.

Thus when a ban on nuclear arms production is urged today, it cannot be considered as an improvement that is going to be made overnight. The limited progress embodied in the international agreement to ban nuclear tests in the atmosphere was an example. The talks began in the summer of 1958 and the eventual treaty was signed in the summer of 1963. The treaty banning the spread of nuclear weapons which was signed last month—it must still be ratified by all the nations involved—was put into formal discussion in the summer of 1965.

The much more far-reaching concept of a ban on nuclear weapons production will hardly take less time—and talks have not even started yet. The best prospect at the moment is that with the reopening of the 17-nation disarmament conference next Tuesday the United States and Russia may find it possible to begin talks about holding talks. From this might emerge agreement to enter formal discussions and the estimate of the experts is that if all went well, conclusion of a treaty to ban nuclear arms production might be possible within four or five years.

Apart from the vital implications of a production ban, the details of implementation could prove almost impossibly difficult. Some form of inspection of potential nuclear arms production plants would almost certainly be demanded by the United States. The Soviet Union has heretofore been adamant in refusing any form of neutral inspection of domestic facilities. But while the need exists there will be periodic moves toward such an agreement and eventually success may be achieved. Not the least spur to action may be the rise of a recalcitrant Red China as a nuclear power, demonstrating in very tangible fashion the need for global agreement on this life-or-death question.

A Lone Woman Member

(Victoria Times)

By the fortunes of elections, the House of Commons now has only one woman member, Mrs. Grace MacLennan, daughter of CCF founder, the late J.S. Woodsworth, the widow of the former member, the late Angus MacLennan. Others of her sex have retired or been swept under the rolling tide of votes for male candidates. This is a situation which brings little satisfaction to most Canadians who have shown, in recent years, a willing recognition of the part women can play in public life.

There can be little justification for the election of a woman merely because she is a woman, in a sort of token gesture to femininity. Woman should employ public confidence on the basis of their abilities and character, not of their sex. Yet there are matters in which the feminine point of view differs from that of the male—and they are matters of concern to the country as a whole.

In the polling, voters had the opportunity to ballot for the candidate of their choice, and among those aspiring to office were a number of women. It is unfortunate, however, that in the new parliament the voice of women will be a solo—a point which should concern, among others, the Voice of Women.

Bygone Days

The Rutland PTA sponsored a farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Campbell at the Centennial Park. There was dancing on the outdoor dance floor, and refreshments served in the Pavilion by ladies of the PTA. Speakers on behalf of the PTA, and the Board of Trade told of the services given to the community by Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and wished them well in their new home in Peace River.

A tired bunch of Vancouver and Victoria swimmers are resting in Kelowna today as the result of a rock slide that blocked the Kettle Valley railway line for eleven hours, with the result that they did not arrive in the city until 2 a.m. A cloudburst at Hope brought down hundreds of tons of mud and rocks, burying the tracks 20 feet deep.

Kelowna Regatta In 1908 Was 'Tremendous Success'

By ART GRAY

"With the aid of splendid weather, large crowds, and an interesting program of events, the second annual Kelowna Regatta, held on Wednesday and Thursday last, was thoroughly successful and enjoyable," was the comment of the "Kelowna Courier and Okanagan Orchardist" upon the Orchard City's second venture of this nature. The attendance was highly satisfactory, 850 admission tickets having been sold on the Wednesday, and there was no flagging of interest on the second day, the "grandstand," so called, was again crowded.

Some changes were made in the arrangements from those of the first Regatta, the year before. The CPR wharf, which had been used the year previous could not be used as a grandstand again due to the volume of freight being handled. The beach was used instead. Seats were placed in the shade of the trees, which "made a pleasant awning for the spectators." There was one slight drawback, however, the launch house blocked off the view of the last lap of the sailing and launch races.

A novelty that proved popular was dancing on a platform erected in the park. There was a fireworks display, with a special feature billed as "The Bombardment of Alexandria," but it did not come up to expectations for the Courier commented "The less said about the fireworks the better, for both they and the 'Bombardment of Alexandria' were very disappointing." As a general rule, "fireworks displays are feeble unless a considerable sum of money can be lavished on them, and in future it might be well to omit them."

Beyond a small contingent from Summerland, and a few from other points, the crowd was composed entirely of residents of the Okanagan Mission valley area, causing the Courier to comment—"It is comforting to think that our celebrations can be made a success independently of outside patronage." As a point of view that would hardly be applicable today.

KEEN CONTEST

Competition was keen, we are told, and entries so numerous that heats were necessitated in most events. Wednesday was still and hot and it was not possible to bring off the sailing races, but fortunately a good breeze sprang up on Thursday afternoon and all the races were sailed.

Much to the delight of Kelownians, Mr. G. H. Packer retrieved the reputation of Kelowna yachtsmen by winning the "Ladies" cup, defeating Mr. H. Leir of Penticton by 2 minutes 22 seconds and Mr. V. Taylor, Summerland, who sailed the Skidoo, winner of the cup last year, who was third. In the sailing handicap Mr. McNair's pretty little craft got 47 minutes handicap and managed to win on time from R. V. Agur's splendid Coast-built, fin keel boat, which was scratched, yet managed to come in 10 minutes ahead of the next boat, but only 18 minutes ahead of McNair.

"The race was a pretty one for the spectators," says the Courier, "10 boats taking part, and several of them broke out balloon jibs and spinnakers as they ran south before the breeze." There was the inevitable titling contest between gallant warriors, armed with padded oars and mounted on the bows of their respective boats, the log-bailing displays and the ever verdant greasy pole, which provided the usual amusement to one and all.

The launch races brought out a large field, but unfortunately it seems that some of the "sportsmen" participating were not above pulling a "fast one" by deliberately slowing down their boats so as not to run under the test time, allowing them by this means a much larger handicap than they were entitled to.

The Courier report states that "the first and third winners admitted 'pulling' their boats, and should have been disqualified, and the first place given to the second boat which ran full speed around the course. The committee, however, with curiously warped judgment, failed to inflict any penalty and ordered the race run over again the next day."

BAND DELIGHTED

The Kelowna City band was in attendance both days, and "delighted the crowd with their large repertoire of music." Under the able leadership of D. D. Campbell, the band has improved out of all knowledge. Water sports were not the only attraction, there was a baseball game on the Thursday afternoon that "took the attention of the spectators away from the water for an hour or so." Kelowna and Summerland were the contestants. No players names are listed, but it was a close contest, Summerland winning 5-4 in the tenth inning, the score being tied four all at the end of the regulation nine innings.

The S.S. Okanagan made a special trip from Penticton on Thursday evening to take the Irrigation Convention delegates from Kelowna to Penticton and as she entered port she threw her searchlights over the boats and launches moving over the lake, producing a brilliant and effective illumination. The parade of boats was much better than the previous year, we are told, and keen rivalry took place between F. R. E. DeHart and James Bowes. The judges awarded first prize to the latter on the score of illumination, the beautiful decorative scheme of Mr. DeHart's boat failing to show to full advantage after dark.

MEDALS PRESENTED

Distribution of the large number of valuable medals and awards was made by the Lady Mayors, Mrs. D. W. Sutherland, at the bandstand in the park. The officials who bore the brunt of the worry and work were Messrs. W. Crawford, president, A. L. Meunier, treasurer, J. W. Wilks, secretary, H. W. Hardman and F. R. Wollaston, judges, and E. J. Maguire, umpire and starter. Space does not permit listing the prize winners but here are a few at random: Boys' swimming race, under 16, 1. J. L. Wilson; 2. E. Hunter. Breast stroke (17 entries) 1. J. F. Burner; 2. F. G. Budden; 3. A. Edwards. Double sculls, 1. R. and E. Agur; 2. D. and N. McMillan; 3. H. C. Childers and G. A. Kirk. Greasy pole in comic costume, 13 entries. 1. W. Crawford; 2. C. A. Marshall; 3. J. L. Wilson. Costume prizes: 1. G. Stirling; 2. J. Davies.

As the winners received their awards they received hearty applause, and the Courier said "Special favorites were J. F. Burner, and G. H. Packer who so gallantly recovered the Ladies Cup."

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

But You Don't Need Any Suntan Lotion...

By DR. JOSEPH G. MOLNER

Dear Doctor Molner:

I work in an office six days a week, which leaves little time to get any sunshine. I have purchased a sun lamp. Do I need suntan lotion while under the lamp? My skin is a little on the dry side. —O.G.

For heaven's sake, I didn't know anybody but doctors and moon-lighters still worked six days a week any more.

No, you don't need suntan lotion if you use the sun lamp properly. People don't need lotion under the sun, either, if they go at the tanning process properly, meaning short exposures (15 to 20 minutes—under a lamp much less than that even) the first few times, until the skin develops protection.

But suntanning has become such a status symbol, or obsession, or whatever, it is, that people are in a frightful rush to get fashionably brown.

So they get out in hot sun, spend all afternoon, perhaps, and too often cook themselves into a sunburn, which not only is painful and harmful, but doesn't accomplish much tanning.

You don't tan by burning; you tan by having enough exposure so that the ultraviolet rays penetrate the skin and bring about a denser color which represents a protection of the skin against the sun.

Anyway, the burn-in-hurry addicts can benefit by tanning lotions if they are the "sun-screen" type—that is, contain chemicals which actually screen out some of the ultraviolet.

Other lotions merely dye the skin. Still others can contribute a chemical action which encourages actual tanning instead of dyeing.

Of all of them, I certainly regard the sun-screen lotions highly, since they are genuinely protective—within limits. You can still burn through them if you stay out too long.

But to return to the sun lamp;

if you expect to get out in the sun on the seventh day, by all means work up some protection (tan) by spending a few minutes on each of the other six evenings under the lamp. Read the directions—and follow them. Don't stay under the lamp until the skin turns pink. By then you've already had much too much exposure, and burning has started.

Too many people, it seems, still do not realize that it is not necessary to burn in order to get a tan. In fact, tanning is best accomplished by avoiding any burning at all. And the only way is to take the sun (or lamp) in small doses at first.

While I'm in favor of getting a fair amount of sun (not to mention fresh air, exercise, and recreation) I'm vigorously opposed to the fetish of getting the deepest suntan possible. It isn't healthful.

Whether it is from too much time under the sun or under the sun lamp, too much exposure makes the skin leathery and disposed to unwelcome changes years later—skin cancer, keratosis, and the like.

So I plead, somewhat pessimistically, for a more reasonable attitude toward tan.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have arthritis in the spine. I am 55. A doctor gave me a cortisone injection which helped me a lot, but someone told me it can affect my heart. A.J.

Judicious use of cortisone derivatives can be very helpful and will not harm you.

CANADA'S STORY

Flip Of Coin Made Millions

By BOB BOWMAN

This is the story of how a flip of a coin made $300,000,000 for the founders of the CPR.

In 1873 Donald A. Smith indirectly helped the Liberals under Alexander Mackenzie defeat the Conservatives under Sir John A. Macdonald, and form the government of Canada. One year later Smith persuaded the government to authorize the building of a railway from Selkirk to the U.S. border via Winnipeg. The Conservatives shouted "political payoff" but the measure went through. Smith saw the way to make a financial killing. The St. Paul and Pacific Railway in the U.S.A. was bankrupt, and he kept urging his cousin, George Stephen, president of the Bank of Montreal, to buy it. The railway would receive a grant of 2,500,000 acres of public lands if it built a branch to the Manitoba border by 1878.

Stephen did not think much of the deal, but remembered it when he was in Chicago for a few days on Bank of Montreal business. He had been invited to visit St. Louis, and decided to flip a coin to decide whether he would go there, or look over the railway situation in St. Paul.

The toss of the coin favored St. Paul where Stephen quickly saw the profit that could be made by building a railway to the Manitoba border to connect with the railway from Selkirk and Winnipeg.

The story is too long and complicated to be told here, but the result of the visit was that Stephen, Smith, and two other partners put up $300,000 of their own money. On August 3, 1878, the St. Paul and Pacific Railway was given running rights to Winnipeg. By 1883 the partners divided $300,000,000 among themselves. Their railway was renamed the Great Northern. The profits enabled Stephen Smith and others to get the franchise to build the CPR.

OTHER EVENTS ON AUG. 3: 1583—Sir Humphrey Gilbert arrived at St. John's to claim Newfoundland.

1610—Henry Hudson discovered the bay named after him.

1751—First printing press in Canada established at Halifax.

1878—Federal government refused to accept arbitration award of boundary of Ontario.

Churches Move Closer With Decision To Unite

LONDON (AP)—Two of Britain's Protestant churches moved closer together when the Congregationalists and the Presbyterian Church of England voted, at their assemblies in May, for union by 1970.

The new United Church, as it will be called, is expected to have nearly 300,000 members with 1,500 ministers serving 2,000 churches throughout England and Wales.

However, in approving unanimously the general principle of union, the Congregationalists made a reservation that final decisions about the form of church government as it affects a single pattern of eldership and the diaconate should be left until later.

This will be borne in mind when delegates from the two churches draw up their formal outline for union, which is expected to be ready by next year. The outline plan then will be studied by individual members of the two denominations before final acceptance, which is expected in 1970 with ratification following a year later.

The grouping together of Congregationalists and Presbyterians in the new United Church will mark the first occasion on which union is achieved between historically separated churches in this country. But the Church of England and the Methodists are discussing union, too.

There are about 260,000 Congregationalists in England and Wales. Presbyterians number under 40,000, although there are many more in Scotland and Northern Ireland, who are not affected by the present merger.

The laity is expected to be given an important role in the United Church, presiding at holy communion when necessary. Men and women will be strictly equal, with women also eligible for the ministry. Local churches will have lay elders chosen by the church to share in preaching and pastoral work.

The United Church will consider itself in communion with other Christian churches and welcome all Christians to holy communion.

Conference A Success

"What a refreshing time." "An outstanding Assembly." Such were the thoughts expressed by returning delegates from the Watch Tower Assembly in Kamloops last week. Spokesman for the Kelowna congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, L. Vance, said the convention was one of the most interesting he has ever attended.

"From the standpoint of valuable, practical counsel on proper conduct, both morally and spiritually, this 'Good News For All Nations' convention will stand out in my mind for many years. All of Jehovah's Witnesses now appreciate the need for concentrated exertion in the direction of assisting their neighbors to understand that only a very limited time now remains for the present governmental systems of the world. This was the gist of Mr. Little's featured discourse: 'Man's Rule About to Give Way to God's Rule.'"

Kenneth A. Little, Canadian Director of Watch Tower Society operations, said, "Is there any evidence to show that man's rule has been the blessing of the world? The true-to-fact answer is no!"

Speaking about the value of understanding the Bible, Mr. Little said, "It is the only book that gives mankind an authentic account of its beginning and of its history for more than four thousand one hundred years. Furthermore, some of its many predictions or prophecies which have not yet been fulfilled carry us 'right down into this twentieth century... and even for a thousand years from today. It is the only book that assures us that man's rule is now about to give way to God's rule.'"

"Viewed from the standpoint of the world situation today," he continued, "it is becoming undeniably plain that man is unable to rule himself. He is unable to survive by his own human efforts and without the help, guidance and blessing of the God who created man and all the laws that govern man's environment. From sheer necessity of man's present extremity, the time has come when God simply has to take over the rule of this earth for the saving of the human race. Only honest persons who have lost faith in man's rule have solid reason now to rejoice that man's rule is about to give way to God's rule."

Mr. Vance stated that all 5,404 present, including the 73 newly ordained ministers, were thrilled to receive a new publication to use in their household visitation work. "The publication, 'The Truth That Leads to Eternal Life,' is a concise and plain summary of the Bible evidence of what each person who wants to live eternally in paradise conditions will have to do quickly in order to survive the soon-to-come elimination of all those opposed to God's rulership of the earth," Vance said.

A number of those baptized at the convention in Friday were from the Kelowna area.

Divorced Mothers Defeated In Bid To Attend Meetings

LONDON (CP)—Despite defeat for Canada and New Zealand on the question of admitting divorced mothers to the Anglican Mothers' Union, a leading delegate to last week's worldwide conference says the "winds of change are very real" within the 90-year-old society.

In an interview with The Church Times, the Anglican weekly newspaper, the New Zealand president, Joan Holland, said the New Zealand plan to give autonomy to country branches in different countries was defeated by "the conservative English element, the West Indies and the African vote."

But the voting on this motion, which would have enabled the various branches to make their own membership qualifications, was much closer than that on an almost identical motion put forward the previous day.

The vote of 162 to 129, "coupled with the fact that each English diocese had three voting delegates while each overseas diocese had only one, made us realize that the winds of change were very real," said Mrs. Holland.

Mrs. Holland said she did not want her country to be the divisive element in the movement, so she had suggested the next three years be an experimental period to devise some method of association between the parent body and the dissidents, such as New Zealand and Canada.

A special commission headed by a London bishop will be charged with this task. "Canada and New Zealand... are now free to make what experiments they will in the matter of rules of membership or anything else to provide a dynamic society for the service of our church," said Mrs. Holland.

"No one can now say that we have been divisive, for we have kept the limited contact open. I am sure that by winning support for our resolution on three years' experimentation, we shall give encouragement to Mothers' Union members all over the world."

In the same issues, The Church Times in its editorial criticizes the closed-door policy of the Mothers' Union conference in a matter which must have evoked a good deal of "agonized emotion." New Zealand's determination to make its own rules on the divorce question may well encourage many other branches to follow suit, the newspaper says.

Wild Life For Priest

TAWI TAWI (AP)—On this sleepy island on the Sulu Sea a Filipino priest packs a shotgun and climbs trees at night to hunt wild pigs.

Rev. Crisogono Echavez, robed in white from neck to sandals, looks disarmingly gentle—but there's an impish twinkle in his eyes and he tells some wild tales about those wild pigs.

He is a member of the Oblate Fathers, a centuries-old order, and one of the small minority of Roman Catholics in these Moslem islands of the southernmost Philippines.

The priest perches in tree limbs on the church farm, pinpoints wild pigs by flashlight and blasts them with his shotgun. The pigs root out crops and seedlings, and the boars with long tusks can be dangerous to humans.

Moslem religion forbids eating pork, so islanders always have let the pigs roam. The priest hunts the pigs "as a public service," he explains.

He recalls the memorable night he heard a crash in the thicket and spotted a blundering white boar charging directly under his tree perch.

"Ah! I said to myself, 'a white boar from Sibutu, and cut loose with both barrels.'"

When the roar had subsided and the animal was breathing its last, the father dropped to the ground and found he had slain a neighbor's cow.

"It took a bit of explaining," he said with a weak smile.

Now Hippies Get Organized

MONTREAL (CP)—City Police Director Jean Gilbert said Friday, Montreal hippies are not a problem in themselves, but are being stirred up and pushed into things by the "so-called social agencies who work with them."

"Hippies are being organized," Mr. Gilbert said in an interview. "They are pressured and pushed into doing things that put them in jeopardy. Instead of being helped by these people they are being used like guinea pigs."

Referring to recent accusations from various sources that the police force is trying to run the hippies out of town, he said: "I met with these people, these so-called social agency workers and professional adults in an attempt to put a stop to this problem, but it is very hard to deal with them."

"These organizations, including the civil liberties action committee, are completely anti-authority. They are extremely hostile to presently accepted norms of society."

"This police department is willing to go to any lengths to peacefully settle this misunderstanding with the hippies but up until now our initiative and good faith has been twisted around by these professional radicals."

A MAN FOR ALL PEOPLE: WINTERBURN, Alta. (CP)—Alexis Morin, who marked his birthday on Dominion Day, remembers seeing Caribou running on what is now Jasper Avenue, Edmonton's main thoroughfare. Mr. Morin is related, either as an ancestor or by marriage, to every resident of the Winterburn reserve near Edmonton's western outskirts.

More Oppose Pope's Decision

WASHINGTON (CP)—A group of Roman Catholic theologians who disagree with Pope Paul's encyclical banning artificial birth control said Thursday their number has grown to 163 from 87.

Rev. Charles Curran, vice-president of the Catholic Theological Society of America, said at a news conference that among those joining was Dr. Bernard Haring, professor of systematic moral theology at the Academia Alonsiana in Rome.

He described Dr. Haring as the greatest Catholic theologian in the world.

The group says whether to practise birth control should be left to the conscience of each couple and that it was sometimes necessary to preserve marriage.

Asked what the controversy over the encyclical may have accomplished, Father Curran said: "I think it leaves the question in about the same status as before."

Give Up One Meal A Day Urges Archbishop Ramsey

LONDON (CP)—Amid the glitter of a lord mayor's reception in London's gothic Guildhall, the Archbishop of Canterbury urged his fellow Anglican bishops Thursday night to give up one meal next week and donate the money to feed the world's hungry.

Most Rev. Michael Ramsey told the lord mayor, Sir Gilbert Inglefield, that the day chosen for the fast was Friday, Aug. 9.

The 460 bishops attending the worldwide Anglican communion's Lambeth conference were asked to sacrifice their mid-day meal that day and give whatever they would have spent on it to the lord mayor's "War on Want" appeal.

The bishops have been under fire from some critics for lush living in their spare time. Largely to blame was a light-hearted guide to London life put out by the Anglican church information office here, in which overseas bishops were recommended to eat at such expensive and exclusive eating spots as Claridge's, the place to take ladies.

Also tipped for episcopal eating were the Elton, which the guide admitted was one of London's most expensive restaurants. Clergymen near Leicester Square, with its "ludicrously large helpings," and a small Knightsbridge bistro where the bishops were advised to have wood-pigeon in wine.

Author George Target, attacking what he called the "James Bond helpings" on a radio interview, said this was "belching in the face of hunger." The Archbishop of York, Dr. Donald Coggan, agreed the guide was a "major public relations blunder" and the Archbishop of Canterbury was reported angry about it.

In fact, many bishops take the self-service lunch provided by the conference, said Rt. Rev. Ralph Dean, bishop of the British Columbia diocese of Cariboo. He is conference organizer.

But he added with a grin that if any luncheon at the Savoy, that would mean more money donated on the fast day.

Everything Handmade

MIDDLETON, N.S. (CP)—United Empire Loyalists built Holy Trinity Church near this Annapolis Valley community in 1789 while they were still living in log cabins.

Everything was handmade—the nails, the woodwork, and the plaster made from crushed clam shells.

For 1100 years worshippers gathered in Holy Trinity on Sundays and holy days. Then the members of the Anglican parish built a new church closer to the heart of the new community and an annual service was held in the old church, the first in the area.

Early settlers are buried in its cemetery and tourists often stop to look up an ancestor's name and visit the historic building.

The increasing costs of upkeep may force the parishioners to tear down Holy Trinity unless they receive some financial help from outside the parish.

Rosemary Chapter, 100E, here is heading a committee for preservation of the old church. Annual donations from service clubs and organizations will be sought to help the parish continue to repair and maintain it.

Church Aids Dodgers

TORONTO (CP)—A downtown church has found a unique way to house United States draft dodgers.

Members of the Anglican Church of the Holy Trinity have taken out the last 10 rows of pews in the church, set up a partition to separate the area from the rest of the church, and moved in bunk beds. The hostel accommodates about 40 Americans a night.

Brewster Kneen, 34, one of the organizers, said the parish council responded "with eagerness" when the idea was suggested.

"This is really the traditional role of the church—the sanctuary," he says.

The group will operate the hostel until Sept. 30. The church also operates a op-in centre, a coffee house, an outdoor cafe and a friendship centre.

Turquoise And White Theme Of Trotman-Holland Wedding

Baskets of white gladioli tied with turquoise ribbon enhanced St. Michael and All Angels' Anglican Church, and white gladioli centering the pew ends marked the wedding on July 27 at 3 p.m. when Anne Irene daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Holland became the bride of George Porte Trotman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon P. Trotman of Abbotsford.

Rev. R. E. F. Berry officiated at the double-ring ceremony, and the organist was the groom's father, Gordon Trotman of Abbotsford.

The lovely bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a floor length white organza gown fashioned on Empire lines, with elbow length sleeves and a scalloped lace yolk at the neck. The bodice and skirt of the gown were enhanced with lace appliques, and a graceful train flowed from the high waistline. A cluster of organza rosebuds and tiny seed pearls held her Cathedral veil of silk illusion net in place, and she carried a cascading bouquet of white roses and white carnations tipped with turquoise.

For something borrowed, something old the bride wore a gold lavalier trimmed with tiny seed pearls, which had been worn by three generations of Trotman brides.

Acting as her sister's maid of honor was Miss Mary Holland, and the bridesmaids were Miss Elaine August and Miss Patricia Buckland. The three attendants were charming in long flowing gowns of turquoise georgette styled on Grecian lines with cut away shoulders and large matching bows at the back. Their headresses were tiny turquoise restuds and they carried cascade bouquets of white gladioli.

The groom's brother Kenneth Trotman of Abbotsford was best man, and the ushers were the bride's brother Gordie Holland, of Kelowna, Larry Davies of Abbotsford, and Lance Arnett of Burnaby.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Holland chose a short dress of apple green chiffon trimmed with dainty ruffles. Her hat was a cloud of pale pink tulle with touches of green, and she wore matching shoes and a corsage of pale pink gladioli. The groom's mother, who assisted her in receiving the guests, was charming in a dress of pink crepe and a matching coat of nylon lace with which she wore a pink whimsy, which accessories and a corsage of small white roses.

At the reception held in the Capri Chandelieri room and garden, W. R. Robinson of Montreal, who had been best man at the wedding of the bride's parents, proposed the toast to the bride, which was ably answered by the groom, and the best man gave the toast to the bridesmaids. The groom's father then welcomed the bride to his family and proposed a toast to the grandmothers of the bride and groom.

White roses and feathered turquoise, tipped carnations surrounded and topped the three tiered wedding cake made by the groom's grandmother, Mrs. George Davies of Abbotsford, which was flanked by two candelabra each bearing three tiered tall white candles.

The bride changed to a navy blue dress and coat ensemble, a navy lace straw hat trimmed with green ribbon, and navy and green accessories, complemented with a corsage taken from her bridal bouquet. She presented the bouquet to the

Peachland WI Chose Candidate For Jubilee Queen

PEACHLAND (Special) — At the executive meeting of the Peachland Woman's Institute held Tuesday afternoon Kathy Fuks was chosen to represent the W.I. in the Peachland Jubilee Queen Contest. This contest is being sponsored by the Peachland Community Fall Fair Committee, who will choose a local girl between 8 and 14 years to be Jubilee Year Queen. Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. K. Fuks of Beach Ave.

Final arrangements were made for the Institute's annual Senior Citizens Garden Party, which is to be held on Wednesday afternoon August 14 in the beautiful gardens of Rustiana home of Mr. and Mrs. William Selwyn on Vernon Ave. All senior citizens of the district are cordially invited to attend this get-together, anyone wishing transportation is asked to notify Mrs. Kurt Domi. Also any senior citizen who would have extra room in a car is asked to make this available to the W.I. Plans were also made to attend and help with catering at the Country Women Conference picnic which is to be held at the Summerland Experimental Farm on August 22. No more regular meetings will be held till September.

Mrs. A. C. Vincent with her granddaughter Barbara Brooks of Burnaby are spending a holiday with Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Paynter in Westbank.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meloney of Oakville, Man., have been visiting Mrs. Lily Hewlett in Westbank.

The superintendent of the Western Branch of Historic Sites and Parks recently visited Westbank and called on Mr. McFarlane, who is in charge of the local Cairn. He congratulated Mr. McFarlane quite highly on the care of the Cairn site and his interest in keeping it well kept and attractive.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lamb of North Vancouver have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Johnson of Westbank. Mr. and Mrs. Lamb belong to the Alpine Club and have just come back from one of their many trips into the high mountains and meadows where the wild flowers grow in abundance. Their garden in Vancouver is most interesting with all kinds of these beautiful plants, they even have a Shooting Star for a house plant, and it looks strong and healthy with lots of flowers which have grown a lot larger under cultivation.

Lewis Carswell of Vernon, H. O. Paynter, Miss Gillian Paynter and Henry Paynter Jr. of Westbank, had a very enjoyable trip to Spences Bridge over the weekend intent on fishing. However they brought back one salmon which was caught by Lewis.

Two girls have now been chosen as candidates in the Peachland Jubilee Queen contest which is being sponsored by the Peachland Community Fall Fair Committee. Each organization will choose a local girl as candidate and sponsor her as the Jubilee Queen. Chosen as candidate to represent the Peachland Ladies Curling Club is Cindy Bates, daughter of George Bates of Deep Creek. Janice Mitchell, daughter of Mrs. Theima Mitchell, Princeton Ave., will represent the Peachland Recreation Commission.

ANN LANDERS

Difficult To Please All Of Ann's Fans

Dear Ann Landers: For crying in the grog will you please quit wasting valuable newspaper space on those squirrely teen-age "problems." The kids who write have a different beef every five minutes — especially the girls — they sound as if the world is coming to an end. I'll bet by the time their letters appear in print they have forgotten who the clown was they were writing about.

In the past two weeks I've read nonsense from a sister who complained about not getting fed while on the job, a boring thing from a girl whose parents fight all the time and a stupid request for a cure for acne. You've also printed letters from kids whose friends are shoplifters and smoke pot. Such letters should not get space in your column. It makes the writer feel important.

Please use your brains on the adults who need your help, Ann. The punks can manage for themselves. Besides, they probably don't listen to you anyway. —STEADY ANN FAN.

Dear Steady: Thanks for your point of view. Here's someone else's:

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a teen reader who would like to make a request. Please, Ann, make sure there is at least one teen-age problem in your column every day. We teens are faithful readers and when we get passed over completely we feel very let down, like ignored.

Many teen-agers have no one to confide in. Your column is a wonderful place to unload without fear of humiliation or embarrassment. We also learn a lot from the kids who have made mistakes and written to say so. So please, Ann, pay more attention to us. We really need you. —TRUE BLUE TO YOU.

Dear True: I can't promise, but I will try to publish one teen-age letter every day. Thanks for your vote of confidence.

Dear Ann Landers: I just read the letter from the wife who complained because she and her husband must go visit her 79-year-old mother-in-law "several times a year." She said the old lady lives 140 miles away and the trips are a big fat bore.

My mother-in-law lives two blocks away and she drives me and my husband nuts. She thinks nothing of telephoning at 7:30 in the morning and asking him to go get her a pint of coffee cream or a loaf of bread. And no matter where she goes, he has to drive her.

POLICE INJURIES HIGH French officials announced that 1,300 policemen were injured in the student riots of May and June.

I hope the woman who complained sees this letter and realizes how lucky she is. I'd be happy to go visit her mother-in-law "several times a year" if she'd play hand maiden to my mother-in-law around the clock. —WORN OUT.

Dear Worn: Sorry I can't arrange the switch but thanks for writing.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a widow who has been keeping steady company with a fine man. His children are grown and married and they seem to be intelligent, fine people. The man is nice looking and a neat dresser. He would be a lot better looking, however, if he did something about his teeth that are missing.

Ann, I can't understand how a person can ignore three large holes right in the front of his mouth. It seems to me that one of his children would say something to him. Since they seem not to notice, should I mention it? Or should I concentrate on his good qualities and not risk offending him? —A.D.

Dear A.D.: Speak up. There's more involved here than looks. This man needs dental attention and if you can prod him toward it, you will be doing him an enormous favor. The reason most toothless folks do not seem to notice what is so obvious to others is that they are afraid to go to a dentist. They need someone to help them get there. Be the one.

Dear Ann Landers: For the past eight months I have been going with a fellow who is just too good and too nice and too everything. If I asked Rudy to jump off the Brooklyn Bridge at high noon tomorrow he'd jump and not ask a single question. Unfortunately I can't get my blood pressure up over this guy because, well — he's like a brother.

Rudy has spent so much money on me I haven't got the heart to tell him. I know he thinks we will be married one day and I am equally sure I could never marry him. Every time he comes over with another lovely gift I feel like a bigger heel.

Please tell me what to do. My conscious is bothering me. —I HEAR NO BELLS

Dear No Bells: To string along a guy who is serious — when you are not in duplicitous of the worst kind. The longer you keep him up the guiltier you'll feel and the more severe will be his disappointment. Tell Rudy you must stop seeing him — and why. There's an outside chance that Rudy will look better to you in a year or two, and if he does you might consider — if he's still available, that is.

Shower Honors Westbank Girl

WESTBANK (Special) — A lovely Bridal Shower was held on the lawn of Mrs. Donald B. Campbell's home in honour of Miss Kirsten Olson of Westbank whose marriage to Neil Richmond of White Rock takes place in the First United Church at White Rock on August 31. The lawn was decorated for the occasion with pink and white wedding bells, and the huge box containing the gifts decorated with pink and white flowers and wedding bells.

Arriving at the shower the bride elect was presented with a beautiful white gladioli corsage while the brides mother and her two sisters Anette and Anne Marie were presented with colored gladioli corsages. The corsages were made by Mrs. Cal Cameron.

Miss Olson assisted by her mother and two sisters opened the gifts and handed them around for all to admire; following which the bride elect voiced her thanks to the gathering.

The hostesses were Mrs. Donald Campbell and Mrs. Walter Johnson. A delicious lunch was served to the guests by Beverly Gorman, Janice Kirby and Allison Paynter.

Argos Trounce Eskimos And A Question Arises

The question now is can the Argos actually be that good or are Montreal Alouettes just that bad?

The Eastern Conference Argos, who changed their aged powder blue colors to navy blue for their season opener, overpowered Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Conference 32-4 in a Canadian Football League interlocking game.

The same Eskimos had used their vaunted offensive line to defeat the Alouettes 27-10 Wednesday night, but the Argos held it to a mere 217 yards—11 in the air.

Toronto quarterback Willie Gahler was the key to Toronto's attack. Gahler, a third-year Argos who refused to sign his contract this season until he nailed down the first-string job, completed 22 of 33 pass attempts for 286 yards in the air.

He threw touchdown passes to Neil Smith, Bill Symons and Mel Profit and directed most of Toronto's 146 yards gained along the ground during the first 55 minutes of the game. Symons scored the other Toronto touchdown on a two-yard plunge, while Dave Mann kicked a field goal, three converts and two singles.

Peter Kempf scored all four points for the Eskimos on a field goal and single. Still, it was difficult to assess Toronto's depth.

The Eskimos put Gahler under little stress of a strong rush. His passes are accurate and he used Bobby Taylor and Mel Profit as his principal receivers.

Profit gained 106 yards on five catches and Taylor gained 71 yards on five catches. Gahler's understudy, Tom Wilkinson, directed the Argos attack during the final five minutes of the game, making good on four of six passes.

Toronto gained a total of 319 yards in the air and added another 153 along the ground. Quarterback Frank Cosenino completed nine of 18 passes for Edmonton.

Symons was the big yards gainer, rolling up 135 yards—40 along the ground. Art Perkins of Edmonton was the leading ground gainer with 79 yards and added five more on three catches.

Toronto scored the first time it got possession of the ball. Edmonton was given a 29-yard interference penalty on the first play and the Argos scored on three plays from the Eskimos' 37, with Symons going over at 3:11 of the first quarter from two yards out.

Kempf then brought the score to 7-4 with a 28-yard field goal at 6:35 of the quarter and a wide attempt that went for a single at 2:52 of the second quarter.

Mann, who converted the first Toronto touchdown, kicked a 31-yard field goal a short time later and Toronto added another touchdown at 13:29 with Gahler hitting Profit with a 25-yard pass after the Argos marched 100 yards on nine plays.

Mann converted the touchdown to give the Argos a 17-4 half-time lead.

Lyle (The Viking) Hickson, who set a C modified record last Saturday by winning five races, will be out to continue his success. Drew Kitch, who smashed his B modified in practice Saturday is expected back. Bob Morcombe, top dog in the early-late class, will also be out to improve his point standings.

Following are the top five drivers in points in each of the three classes going into this weekend's action, with car numbers in brackets:

EARLY-LATE
Bob Morcombe (54) 172; Fred Deuschel (86) 158; Gary Hutchison (10) 139; Bruce Halquist (11) 122 and Joe Sabatino (55) 85.

C MODIFIED
Lyle Hickson (32) 415; Earl Stein (34) 294; Al Borrett (88) 248; Heinz Boessel (31) 208 and Ken Foster (33) 198.

B MODIFIED
Drew Kitch (22) 353; Pete Smith (15) 218; Ab Funk (7) 188; Joe Harvey (77) 146 and Neil Roth (25) 69.

Of the 37 drivers who have competed since racing began in May, 21 have at least one win. Hickson leads the win parade with 27 and Kitch has 24. Other drivers with more than 10 wins are Morcombe, 13 and Deuschel, 11.

All Saturday Night Racing Approved For Foster Track

Stock car racing will go under the lights next year at the Billy Foster Memorial Raceway.

The decision to install lights was announced this week by Noll Derriksan, owner-operator of the quarter-mile, paved racing complex five miles south of Kelowna.

Racing has been held Saturday night since the beginning of July, with time trials at 6 p.m. and racing at 7 p.m.

Next season, with lights, time trials will probably start at 6:30 or 7 p.m., with racing at 8 p.m. This will permit Derriksan and members of the Okanagan Track Racing Association to run the usual 14-race card, without fear of having to cut laps in the feature event—and still finish about 10:30 p.m.

The move is welcomed by club members, many of whom have trouble getting away from work in time to complete time trials by 7 p.m. The switch is almost guaranteed to improve crowd sizes, which have already started to increase with the switch to Saturday night racing.

Meanwhile racing will continue on Saturday nights. After experimenting with the switch from Sunday afternoon to Saturday night during July track operation, Derriksan and racing association officials decided to continue the evening race cards.

Eagles Give Vollmer Lead In Willow Park Golf Classic

CALGARY (CP) — Stan Homenuik still nurses rueful memories from a year ago when he lost the Willow Park golf classic championship in his grasp but lost it during the last hour of competition.

"I was leading by four strokes starting the last nine holes when I just couldn't do a thing right, the slightly-built Dauphin, Man, golfer said Friday night after sharing the first-round lead with two others in this year's Willow Park which pays a record $3,000 to the winner.

Homenuik, an eight-year professional, fired a blistering four-under-par 67 Friday, the only veteran who was able to keep up with Wayne Vollmer, 24, of Vancouver, and Trevor Bateman, 23, of Montreal, who stole most of the limelight during the opening day of the $20,000, 54-hole tournament.

"The first day is easy," Homenuik said. "It's the last day that's tough. That's when the pressure builds up."

Homenuik, third-place finisher last year, was generally pleased with his opening day play, except for the second hole when he missed the green and the 18th when he short-putted.

"I should have had a 66," he said.

Hockey Game Set To Go

The annual Hockey Spectacular is in the wings and waiting. The featured performers have all arrived and only a handful of tickets remain.

"Tickets have been moving real well during the past week," organizer Blair Peters said today. "There are a few left and they'll be sold at the gate if they haven't been grabbed up by game time."

Game time is 8 p.m. at the Memorial Arena.

The usual National Hockey League and Western Hockey League representation is on hand for the game but two teams from other "leagues" are being well-represented this year.

Roger Bourbonnais and Jackie McLeod are on hand from Canada's National Team. Bourbonnais was the team captain for several seasons while McLeod has handled coaching chores since the Nats' inception.

A coach and player are also representing the Estevan Bruins of the Western Canada Junior Hockey League. Jim Harrison, the loop's most valuable player last season, and Scotty Munro will both be on the same team for tonight's game.

Munro will be opposite McLeod in the coaching positions. Several NHL stars are in the lineup including Frank Mahovlich of the Detroit Red Wings and Eddie Shack and John McKenzie of the Boston Bruins.

Other NHL performers playing are Glen Sather of the Bruins, Mike Laughton and Larry Cahoon of the Oakland Seals and Selh Martin of the St. Louis Blues.

Phil Maloney of the Vancouver Canucks heads a large WHL delegation while players from the Western International Hockey League and the B.C. Junior Hockey League will round out rosters of both teams.

Labs Visit Vernon For OMBL Playoffs

The first game of an already-disputed Okanagan Mainline Baseball League playoff series between the third-place Kelowna Labatts and pennant-winning Vernon Luckies will be played Sunday in Vernon.

The first game was set for last Sunday, but on short notice, Kelowna did not appear, saying they did not have enough time to arrange for the contest, prompting Vernon to protest the game and claim an opening game victory. However, they dropped the protest after they conferred with league officials Wednesday.

Vernon brings a 13-game regular season winning streak into the best-of-three series and will pitch the league's top hurler, Reg Mann, in the opener. Mann has a perfect 10-0 season record including three wins and a microscopic 0.87 earned run average against the Labatts.

Allan Vetter (3-5, 5.00) or Les Schaefer (3-1, 1.88) will oppose the ex-New York Yankee farmhand. Vetter will likely get the nod from coach Doug Moore as he is usually effective after a long rest between starts, and he will have had a 12-day lay-off.

Mann, who converted the first Toronto touchdown, kicked a 31-yard field goal a short time later and Toronto added another touchdown at 13:29 with Gahler hitting Profit with a 25-yard pass after the Argos marched 100 yards on nine plays.

Mann converted the touchdown to give the Argos a 17-4 half-time lead.

Lyle (The Viking) Hickson, who set a C modified record last Saturday by winning five races, will be out to continue his success. Drew Kitch, who smashed his B modified in practice Saturday is expected back. Bob Morcombe, top dog in the early-late class, will also be out to improve his point standings.

Following are the top five drivers in points in each of the three classes going into this weekend's action, with car numbers in brackets:

EARLY-LATE
Bob Morcombe (54) 172; Fred Deuschel (86) 158; Gary Hutchison (10) 139; Bruce Halquist (11) 122 and Joe Sabatino (55) 85.

C MODIFIED
Lyle Hickson (32) 415; Earl Stein (34) 294; Al Borrett (88) 248; Heinz Boessel (31) 208 and Ken Foster (33) 198.

B MODIFIED
Drew Kitch (22) 353; Pete Smith (15) 218; Ab Funk (7) 188; Joe Harvey (77) 146 and Neil Roth (25) 69.

Of the 37 drivers who have competed since racing began in May, 21 have at least one win. Hickson leads the win parade with 27 and Kitch has 24. Other drivers with more than 10 wins are Morcombe, 13 and Deuschel, 11.

White Sox Find Same Results But At Least Crowds Bigger

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Happiness for Chicago White Sox is a home game in Milwaukee. They still lose, but at least they make money doing it.

The Sox took their road show to Wisconsin for the seventh time this season Friday night, drew well again, and lost again.

This time Washington Senators did the hatching job, chopping up the Sox 11-6 before a crowd of 20,082 in County Stadium—once the home of the National League Braves.

That brought Chicago's Milwaukee attendance to 187,756—an average of almost 27,000 a game—considerably better than the less than 10,000 per game they've drawn at home.

Artistically playing in Milwaukee hasn't helped the ninth place Sox. Friday night's loss was their sixth there this year.

Elsewhere in the American League Friday night, Detroit Tigers nipped Minnesota Twins 6-5, Oakland Athletics dropped Cleveland Indians 5-1, Baltimore Orioles beat New York Yankees 4-1 and California Angels split a two-night doubleheader with Boston Red Sox winning 3-2 before losing 6-1.

HOWARD HITS BIG
Frank Howard drove in three runs for the Senators with a double and his 31st homer of the year while Camille Pascual coasted to his 10th victory behind the 15-hit Washington attack.

Three of the Senators hits were singles by Tim Cullen, traded to Washington by Chicago for Tom Hansen earlier Friday. Cullen drove in one run and scored another.

Hansen, who made an unassisted triple play and whacked a grand slam homer the week before the Senators unloaded him, had a single and a double, drove in a run and scored one for the White Sox.

Bill Frechan drove in three runs with a double and a single from the front-running Tigers. Ron Clark and Rich Reese homered for the Twins.

Boog Powell tagged a three-

Second baseman Bernie Monteleone (244) will be back in the lineup and coach Moore could have the services of both centre fielder Ron Hargus (263) and catcher Tom Bird (250).

Vernon should start the same lineup which carried them to a final 7½ game budge over second place Kamloops in coasting to the pennant.

The probable lineups:
Kelowna — C—Don Favell (145); 1B—Gerry Robertson (412); 2B—Monteleone; 3B—Gary Lawlor (258); SS—Bob Cox (189); LF—Jack Burton (282); CF—Wayne Leonard (307); RF—Les Schaefer (259); P—Vetter.

Vernon — C—Gordie Nuyens; 1B—Russ Keckalo; 2B—Bob Adthead; 3B—Cliff Loring; SS—Rick Sugden; LF—Clark Inglis; CF—Don Archer; RF—Pat Loring; P—Mann.

The other semi-final series also begins this weekend and pits second place Kamloops against last place Pentecost.

The second game of the Vernon-Kelowna series will be played in Kelowna, probably on Thursday night.

run first inning homer and some strong relief pitching by John Morris earned Baltimore its victory.

Morris allowed just three hits in 6 1-3 innings of relief, the last two with two out in the ninth as he closed in on the victory.

Oakland captured its fourth straight and tagged Cleveland with its third straight loss and eighth in the last 11 games.

Dave Duncan's two-out single drove in a pair of runs for the Athletics in the second and Cleveland never made up the deficit.

Rookie Tom Murphy, just 2½ weeks away from induction into the army, throttled Boston on six hits and the Angels won the first game of their doubleheader. Californi scored all its runs in the first inning against loser Juan Pizarro—two of the on Bubba Morton's double.

In the second game, Jim Longborg went seven innings and gave up seven hits, struck out five and walked two.

Many Chase Golf Title

CHICAGO (AP) — The chase for the $26,000 winning jackpot of the Western Open Golf Tournament is becoming a stampede.

Bobby Nichols, the 1964 PGA champion, and George Archer, this year's fourth leading money winner, swing into today's third round sharing the lead at 136, six strokes under Olympia Fields' battered par.

Only one stroke away at 137 are Miller Barber, Homero Blanes, defending champion Jack Nicklaus, veteran Billy Maxwell and a 22-year-old Australian, Bob Stanton.

Nichols canned a 65-foot putt and a 60-foot chip shot on the way to his 66 Friday.

Archer matched the 66 by uncorking a four wood second shot that stopped five inches from the cup for an eagle three on the long 18th hole.

Only three strokes back at 139 were Bert Vancey and Kermit Zarley. In all, 20 players are within five strokes of the two leaders.

Alvie Thompson of Toronto, the only Canadian entered, wound up with 77-148 and missed the cut by two strokes.

BASEBALL STARS
Batting: Bill Frechan, Tigers, drove in three runs, including the winner, in Detroit's 6-5 victory over Minnesota Twins.

Pitching: Ken Holtzman, Chicago Cubs, gained his third straight shut-out with a two-hit, 1-0 victory over St. Louis Cardinals.

One Separatist Group Balks At Joining Merger In Quebec

MONTREAL (CP) — The Movement Souverainiste-Association and the Ralliement National will merge and take steps to form a political party this fall, leaders of the two separatist organizations announced Friday night.

But a third separatist group, the Rassemblement pour l'indépendance nationale, refused to enter the merger because it opposed plans to safeguard the right of Quebec's English-speaking minority to state-supported schools.

Rene Levesque, leader of the 7,000-member MSA, Gilles Giguere, leader of 12,000-member RIN, and Pierre Bourgault, leader of the 13,000-member RIN, met in a downtown restaurant Friday night.

The merger proposal was drawn up earlier this week by the MSA executive, formed last November by Mr. Levesque.

Mr. Bourgault proposed during the meeting that the question of English-language schools be decided by an open convention of representatives of all independence-seeking movements in Quebec, but Mr. Levesque insisted that Quebec's English population must have "full rights" in an independent Quebec.

COULDN'T AGREE

Mr. Bourgault said his party could not agree with Mr. Levesque's position and would continue to operate as a political party offering the Quebec electorate "the only choice for true independence."

Mr. Giguere, former independent member of Parliament for Lapointe, said his Ralliement National accepts all the MSA's conditions and agrees to take part in a founding convention to establish the MSA as a political party in the fall. Mr. Bourgault said the RIN will not take part in the convention.

An RN spokesman said after the meeting that regional officials of his group will meet next week to work out an actual formula for merger with the MSA.

The MSA seeks an independent state of Quebec associated with Canada in an economic union. Mr. Levesque, its leader, resigned from the provincial Liberal party last fall to sit as an independent for Montreal Laurier.

A meeting of the Quebec Liberal Federation earlier had refused to consider his proposals for a sovereign Quebec in association with Canada.

NEW DRIVE-IN FOR THE AREA

Dog 'n' Suds Restaurant To Open Here Monday

An expanding string of drive-in restaurants has included Kelowna in its latest growing plan with the opening of the new Dog 'n' Suds Drive-In, north of the City on Highway 97.

The grand opening of the location will be Monday and manager Wes Penner has a list of bargains for the public.

Mr. Penner is in his first venture in the drive-in business moving from Saskatoon especially to begin and operate the new business. He was a sales representative for Western Gypsum Products before coming here, and travelling through the Okanagan several times prompted his opening of the drive-in.

Dog 'n' Suds recently expanded into the interior and now has centres in Kamloops and Penticton. Mr. Penner said there are eight or 10 other locations in the province, but added they are more predominant on the prairies.

Dog 'n' Suds started in the United States 20 years ago and now has about 500 drive-ins under its operation.

The growing chain specializes in soft drinks, primarily root beer, hamburgers, chicken, fish and hot dogs. Originally, the operation specialized in hot dogs and soft drinks, from which the name Dog 'n' Suds was derived.

Mr. Penner currently has six car hops on call and expects to have 10 or 11 when the drive-in becomes more familiar to the residents of Kelowna. He said business has not been too bad to date, and admitted the busiest times have been the eating hours.

The drive-in has enough stalls to handle 35 cars.

The hours of operation vary upon the day. Weekdays, it is open 11 a.m. through 1 a.m., Friday and Saturday, 11 a.m. to 2 a.m., and Sundays, 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Mr. Penner pointed out the modern facilities he works with and to which he serves the public in return. He said: "We try to get the food to the public as fast as possible and the way the kitchen is set up, we can do it in three minutes."

"We have a high standard of service and food because a Dog 'n' Suds representative checks to see that we do," he added.

The grand opening is being held on a Monday because the new manager expects people to be the least busy of any day and have the most time to attend the big day. The exclusive Dog 'n' Suds rover dog will be on hand in the parking lot, along with a band. Mr. Penner is giving away prizes, particularly to the younger set, and free root beer. "Mainly, it is to get acquainted with the local people," Mr. Penner said.

"We are not trying to draw business away from other local drive-ins," stressed Mr. Penner, "but we are trying to get more people to realize the value of eating out." He listed the benefits of prompt service and the non-worry of having to cook your own meals.

Steel Industry Versus LBJ Goes Into Third Round

NEW YORK (AP) — For at least the third time in the 1960s the U.S. steel industry finds itself confronting the power and ire of a president. Twice it lost. This time, judging by the statements, it intends to win.

"It just shouldn't be permitted to stand," said President Johnson. Bethlehem Chairman Edmund F. Martin responded: "In our opinion our price increase is absolutely necessary, and we don't intend to withdraw it."

The result could be a compromise—an increase, but not of the "slightly less than five per cent" announced by Bethlehem. Meanwhile, the test of strength is on.

In the most recent previous confrontation, on New York's Day 1966, Martin was a quick loser to the administration. His increase on structural steel was called inflationary and unwarranted. He quickly withdrew it.

ment of surprise in the timing of these steel industry announcements. And Kennedy was one of those who was surprised. In fact he felt betrayed and so levelled all the power of his administration at the industry. The increase was rescinded.

Among the surprising aspects of the present announcement, at least so far as the public is concerned, is that it came almost simultaneously with a report of surging profits and sales.

Last month's business conditions do not, of course, mean that next month's will be the same. Bethlehem felt it must prepare for tougher times by boosting its income. But a lot of people may forget that.

JFK RELENTLESS

In the most famous confrontation, beginning April 10, 1962, U.S. Steel, the No. 1 producer, was forced to back down under a relentless barrage of criticism from the administration of President John F. Kennedy.

There are several similarities between the present battle and that 1962 conflict. For one thing both Presidents Kennedy and Johnson were in the midst of anti-inflation campaigns to which steel prices were serious threats.

Kennedy was making a big pitch for price stability in 1962. Partly to show his good faith—he had been distrustful in some business circles—he openly promised to help the steel industry resist excessive wage increases.

Using his influence with labor, Kennedy and his aides helped obtain what was termed a non-inflationary contract. It called for no wage increase for a year and fringe benefits of only 10 cents an hour.

Hours after Kennedy had sent a letter to the Steelworkers Union praising their "forward looking and responsible" action, Roger Blough, U.S. Steel chairman, drove up to the White House on a country call.

FELT RESPONSIBILITY

The president or chairman of U.S. Steel doesn't have to personally call on the president of the United States before announcing action by its directors. But Blough, as it is sometimes called, felt a responsibility.

Blough wished it to be known, from a letter addressed to the U.S. Steel board, that a 36-cent price increase was being announced. Pittsburgh and Gary, Ind., announced that it would have effect at midnight today.

He said he checked and was sure that the increase was a "bona fide" one. There appears to be an element of surprise in the timing of these steel industry announcements. And Kennedy was one of those who was surprised. In fact he felt betrayed and so levelled all the power of his administration at the industry. The increase was rescinded.

TOUGH TENDER

EVESHAM, England (CP) — Two men were digging foundations for a new barn near here when they discovered 50 Roman coins, thought to date from about the year 365. The durable coins were in such good general condition that experts believed a cleaning job would leave them shining as of old.

Her Invitation Just Went Astray

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters) — A 22-year-old woman described by police in court as a well-known prostitute was jailed for three months Saturday for soliciting the chief of Sydney's vice squad. Leonie Ann Willis was charged with soliciting for immoral purposes after she spoke to vice squad chief Alfred Green from an open doorway in a Sydney street.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Joe Burgoine and Pamela Stokes really got up in the air about their wedding—7,500 feet to be exact. That was the altitude reading when they were married in an airplane over Dallas Thursday.

Major, Concerted Attack Faces Czechs At Bratislava

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Czechoslovak reformist leaders probably will face a major, concerted assault on their democratization policies when they receive the top men of Russia and its four orthodox East European allies in Bratislava today.

The only thing to stop such an assault, observers here felt, would be a prior secret deal made by the Prague leaders at their four-day meeting with the Soviet politburo which ended Thursday at Cerna Nad Tisou.

In the Slovakian capital of Bratislava, they face five sets of leaders who told them publicly less than two weeks ago: "We cannot reconcile ourselves with the fact of hostile forces pushing your country off the road of socialism and creating a threat of tearing Czechoslovakia away from the socialist community."

"We shall never consent to see threatened the historical conquest of socialism, the independence and security of all our nations," they said.

These were the key sentences from a letter addressed to the Czechoslovak leaders by the leaders of Russia, East Germany, Poland, Bulgaria and Hungary after a summit meeting in Warsaw which brought the Czechs back to Moscow where they are staying in the days of the East European capitals.

The announcement of the Bratislava meeting is one of only two tangible results, as seen from here, of the dramatic Cerna meeting.

STOPPED ATTACKS

The other is the suspension of anti-Czechoslovak polemics in the Soviet press, which today, for the second straight day, contained no direct criticism of Prague policies.

Although this could be the result of agreement reached at Cerna Nad Tisou, observers felt it more likely that Russian editors were told to hold their fire pending the results of this week's additional meetings.

Soviet newspapers today had no comment in reporting the brief, uninformative communiqué issued after the Cerna meeting, announcing the continuation at Bratislava of talks held in an atmosphere of "complete frankness, sincerity and mutual understanding."

The composition of the Bratislava delegations was not immediately disclosed. Neither was the whereabouts of Soviet Communist Party Secretary Leonid Brezhnev and the 11 other party men in his delegation at Cerna.

Some could already have been back to Moscow where they are staying in the days of the East European capitals.

cerned to give first-hand accounts of what happened at Cerna.

The only clear conclusion that can be drawn from Thursday's communiqué is that the Czechoslovaks made a major tactical concession by agreeing to such collective talks at this stage.

They earlier declined invitations to meet the five parties together, saying they preferred to meet each party bilaterally first on Czechoslovak soil. Now they have agreed to a joint meeting after bilateral talks with only the Soviet party.

Czechoslovak President Ludvik Svoboda's television statement Thursday night that the Russians assured Czechoslovak leaders of their support for Prague's reforms does not necessarily mean any change in the Kremlin position.

The Warsaw letter stated clearly that the participants were not against the present leaders' attempts to correct "errors and shortcomings" by the conservatives they ousted at the beginning of this year.

What they were free to do, against the alleged slackening of Communist party control, was to bring the growing gap between the two countries.

Wide-Range Program Set Up To Beat Quebec's Pollution

QUEBEC (CP) — Leopold Fontaine, vice-president of the Quebec Water Board, says the agency of the municipal affairs department has drawn up a wide-ranging, 10-year program aimed at reducing significantly water pollution in Quebec and protecting useful aquatic fauna.

The anti-pollution campaign, in this first five years of operation, will largely concern Quebec's pulp and paper, petroleum and milk-producing industries. Mr. Fontaine said in an interview Thursday.

Later, it would actively involve many of the province's municipalities, particularly those on the highly-polluted St. Lawrence River.

The board was very much concerned with the purification of its principal rivers and would go about this by concentrating its campaign on a clean-up of their tributaries, the source of much pollutant material.

The board also plans to draft regulations requiring municipalities which make heavy use of sewage collector pipes to build one or two purification plants for the treatment of the bodies of water into which waste is being dumped, Mr. Fontaine said.

must not exceed three per cent of the enterprise's annual production.

By the end of 1963, board experts say, there should be a further reduction in the percentage of wastes dumped into Quebec's waters.

The board will also insist that each pulp and paper plant in the province set up a program of new equipment installation and submit it before Dec. 31, 1970, to the government for study and approval.

This new equipment is to provide for drastic reductions in the amounts of solids left suspended in water after pulp and paper operations, and reductions in the amount of oxygen-absorbing products in water and the concentrations of all other pollutants the board might consider excessive.

The Laval Industrial Association, representing six petroleum companies in the Montreal area that are said to carry out about 30 per cent of the country's oil refining, announced Thursday they will comply with the directives and spend about $8,000,000 on a clean-up campaign.

"We will carry this water purification policy as far as the financial means of our municipalities allows," he added, adding that the Quebec government will not contribute money to the program since municipalities and industries were the ones responsible for the current state of the province's rivers and lakes.

Evidence that the board intends to crack down on water pollution in Quebec came Monday when it issued a set of directives aimed at cutting pollution by 50 per cent over a five-year period.

STIFF DIRECTIVE

The directives, levelled at the province's petroleum, pulp and paper and milk-producing industries, stipulate that, effective Dec. 31, 1969, the amount of solids discharged into bodies of water by mills and refineries

A spokesman for the pulp and paper industry said Wednesday that a majority of the province's pulp and paper mills plan to beat local pollution problems a year ahead of the board's deadline.

Two Survive Air Mishap

KAMLOOPS (CP) — Two men walked away uninjured after they were forced Friday to land their light plane on a hillside near Kamloops. William Giloma of Vancouver and his younger brother Clyde, of Kamloops, were on a pleasure flight when forced to land because of a severe down draft.

TOUR SET

VICTORIA (CP) — F. S. McKinnon, deputy minister of forestry for British Columbia, will be in an eight-man Canadian delegation that leaves Monday for a month-long tour of forestry establishments in Russia.

MAYOR ILL

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP) — Mayor Jimmy Christmas, 65, of Coquitlam Friday was taken to hospital after suffering a heart attack. He has been reeve of the Vancouver suburb of Coquitlam for 25 years.

BODY IDENTIFIED

RICHMOND, B.C. (CP) — RCMP have identified the body of a man found Thursday in a water-filled ditch. An autopsy found that William Joseph Chauvin of Vancouver died of acute alcoholism and drowning.

TWO DROWN

ALERT BAY, B.C. (CP) — RCMP Friday reported that Harry Nelson and Robert Scott Shaw drowned in different parts of Rivers Inlet. Further details were not available. Rivers Inlet is about 200 miles north of Vancouver. Both men were from the area.

MOUNTIES SCORE

VANCOUVER (CP) — Noella Bingham Friday pleaded guilty to selling marijuana to two "hippies" who turned out to be RCMP undercover officers. The hearing was adjourned to Sept. 10.

Giant New Air Terminals For Montreal, Toronto

OTTAWA (CP) — The government plans an entirely new airport for Montreal and vast expansion of existing facilities at Toronto to handle mushroom growth of airline traffic in the coming years, Transport Minister Hellyer announced today.

Costs are expected to run $200,000,000-$300,000,000 at each city to move them into the era of the jumbo jet and the supersonic jet passenger planes, Mr. Hellyer announced at a news conference.

The department expects that contracts for giant new terminal buildings at each city will be let within the next year.

Mr. Hellyer said departmental plans have been firming up to such an extent that further detailed decisions must await consultation with the provincial and municipal authorities.

These talks would cover the willingness of provincial and municipal authorities to co-operate in such matters as zoning near the airports and planning of ground transportation facilities.

At Toronto, a substantial amount of land for expansion of facilities remains available near the international airport at Malton, Mr. Hellyer said. Expansion of the existing airport in this case was the "most economically efficient" solution.

... terminals planned

At Montreal, however, residential construction has hemmed in the international airport in suburban Dorval. This is already limiting full-time use of the airport and weighs against the idea of expansion at the same location, Mr. Hellyer said. Land values have soared in the area and extension of the airport would be extremely expensive, he added. "In view of this, the development of a major new international airport to serve the greater metropolitan area of Montreal is favored, with the present airport at Dorval continuing to function within present limitations."

DEPENDS ON TIME

The cost estimate depends on the time covered for each expansion program, the minister said. This in turn would hinge on the progress of consultations with the provincial and municipal officials.

The cost would be charged to the federal government, Mr. Hellyer said, but both Montreal and Toronto airports earn revenues that cover their direct operating costs and depreciation on capital invested.

Mr. Hellyer said his department is "making plans for all of the major airports in Canada" to cover expected developments over the next 20 years.

These two decades are expected to bring the jumbo jets and the supersonics into wide use. Some of the problems these planes will pose in air traffic control and noise levels can only be guessed at for the present, Mr. Hellyer said.

The present terminal building at Montreal was approved in principle in the mid-1950s and planned to cover a 10-year period of growth. It was designed to handle 4,000,000 passengers annually and traffic has grown to this level now, Mr. Hellyer said.

The new Toronto terminal was approved in principle in 1957 and also was designed to handle growth for 10 years, with a capacity of 3,000,000-4,000,000 passengers a year.

Department forecasts are that by 1985 Montreal will be required to handle some 16,000,000 passengers a year and Toronto about 19,000,000.

Canadian Millionaire Agrees, Britain Best For Families

LONDON (CP) — Canadian millionaire Garfield Weston agrees with Lord Denning that there's no place like England to raise a family.

The bakery and supermarket king, 35 years a British resident, said he was delighted to read what Lord Denning, an eminent Appeal Court judge, said when he ruled a wealthy businessman—also called Weston—could not take his children's $2,080,000 trust fund to the tax-easy island of Jersey.

Lord Denning said: "There are many things in life more worthwhile than money. One is to be brought up in this our England, which is still the envy of less happy lands." He added that it would be bad for children to be uprooted in order to avoid capital gains taxes.

Garfield Weston said: "I'm a Canadian and I could live in any country I want. I have lived in about five countries, but I always come back to England. I guess it's because people are more good-natured here. They are more able to take worries and pressures than in any other place I've found, and that counts for an awful lot."

"Also, you can't find the equal of the English countryside anywhere—except in Ireland."

Weston, 70, is full of enthusiasm about his latest home this side of the Atlantic, 15th-century Barretstown Castle in Ireland's County Kildare. Formerly the property of the late cosmetics queen, Elizabeth Arden Graham, who was born in Woodbridge, Ont., it has a racing stud attached and Weston has hired Noel Murless, one of England's top trainers, to add lustre to his new hobby.

Weston is selling his palatial Mayfair town house with its Roman roof garden and elevators. His wife Reta died in 1987 and the children have dispersed. But he still maintains a smaller London house and white-painted riverside home on the banks of the Thames near Henley.

Another Canadian millionaire, publisher Lord Thomson, responded to Lord Denning's patriotic eulogy by remarking that he lived here because he liked his business.

U.S. Congress Adjourns

WASHINGTON (CP-AP) — The U.S. Congress left its disputes on foreign aid, firearms and a threatened filibuster in the Senate over Johnson's choice of Fortas as chief justice to replace retiring Earl Warren.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said it might be impossible to wind up before Christmas. But many members, particularly those facing tough fights to get re-elected, say they are determined to get home to campaign by Oct. 1.

All 435 House seats are at stake in the Nov. 5 general election while one-third of the 100 Senate seats are up for grabs.

The Senate also faces a battle over efforts to strengthen a gun control bill to ban mail sales of rifles and shotguns.

Other leftover problems include the $72,000,000,000 defence appropriations bill which pays for the war in Vietnam, ratification of the nuclear non-proliferation treaty and a $14,000,000,000 education measure.

In its first seven months, Congress exceeded widespread predictions of a go-slow year and passed the 10-per-cent surtax on incomes, a landmark open housing law, a $5,400,000,000 program for better housing for the poor and a catch-all crime-control measure.

It repealed the gold standard to meet an international threat to the U.S. dollar but left Johnson's proposal for a travel tax on the shelf where it is likely to stay when Congress returns.

Sprinkling Curbs On In Peachland

PEACHLAND — The Peachland Municipal Office has given notice that sprinkling restrictions will be again put into effect this summer, in order to maintain reasonable water pressure throughout the system. Starting Aug. 5 until further notice sprinkling will only be permitted by domestic water users living north of Trepanier Creek on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Residents of the area south of Trepanier Creek will be permitted to use sprinklers Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. No restrictions will be imposed on Sunday sprinkling. A sprinkling day will be for 24 hours from 3 a.m. to 8 a.m. the following day. Co-operation in respecting this arrangement will be appreciated, says the municipal council and office staff.

PREMIERS' CONFERENCE

Provinces 'Not Ganging Up' On Ottawa

WASKESIU, Sask. (CP) — Spokesmen for nine provinces represented at the annual premiers conference which ended Friday said they were not ganging up on Ottawa, but they did make combined requests for federal-provincial conferences on several issues.

The provinces have asked for discussions on taxes, medical care insurance, and fiscal agreements.

The approach was more forthright than the previous eight premiers' conferences and marked somewhat of a change from an unwritten rule to avoid presenting united demands to the federal government.

Evidence of the new approach first came Thursday when delegates fired off a telegram to Ottawa seeking an early meeting on medical care.

The telegram expressed concern among the provinces over rapidly increasing health insurance costs and that the increase was expected to further escalate in the next few years.

At closing sessions Friday, reporters were told, the nine provinces also had requested early federal-provincial consultations to draft new taxation and fiscal arrangements.

Provincial leaders referred to "the deteriorating fiscal position of the provinces relative to the federal government."

They view with concern a widening gap between provincial expenditures and the ability of revenues to cover them. Spokesmen noted the federal government is formally committed to revise present agreements before 1989.

The provinces also asked Prime Minister Trudeau for "full consultation with all provinces" before taking any action on the Carter royal commission report on taxation, which calls for sweeping tax changes.

Saskatchewan Premier Ross Thatcher, conference chairman, said there had been extensive discussions on fiscal questions at the conference.

The Nova Scotia delegation had raised the issue and Premier Smith said after the conference the provinces were anxious to start discussions on new five-year arrangements.

Time was running out on the current two-year agreements and the fiscal positions of the provinces were deteriorating rapidly.

Premier Smith said the short-term agreements had been drafted because of uncertainty caused by the Carter commission. Under it the provinces receive grants from Ottawa and divide up the tax fields with the federal government.

Mr. Smith said a federal-provincial tax structure committee, two years ago had worked out projections that showed the gap between revenues and expenditures in all provinces would grow rapidly in the current decade and into the 1970's. Ottawa's position, meanwhile, would remain fairly stable.
